Surf Takes Toll Of Six In Orange County On Holiday

TWO OTHERS REPORTED TO BE MISSING

Treacherous Rip Tides Take Heavy Toll of Life in Two Day Holiday Here
NEW RECORD IS SET
Search Being Made at Anaheim Landing for Two Believed to Be Dead

TREACHEROUS rip tides which visited the Orange county coast line at a time when more people were bathing than at any time in the history of the county—The Fourth of July—is known to have taken a toll of six lives, while a search is being made for two other persons who may have perished in the high and angry waves that beat against the coast throughout Saturday and Sunday.

Never in the history of the county has the sea been as treacherous, have so many persons been rescued, and the death list for the week end establishes a new record in lives lost by drowning.

DROWNED
J. A. Bryant, 49, Alhambra, at Sunset Beach.
Robert Morris, 29, Los Angeles, at Huntington Beach.
Jack Wynn, 23, Los Angeles, Huntington Beach.
Richard Maxon, 6, Tustin, at Newport Beach.
Charles Rofferty, 58, Los Angeles, at Laguna Beach.
Ben Musham, 17, at Laguna Beach.

MISSING
Jack Hike, 17, Altadena, at Huntington Beach.
Unidentified youth, believed drowned, near Laguna.

J. A. Bryant, 49, Alhambra laundry, owner, died in the surf at Sunset beach, after he had been partially towed in by his brother-in-law, with whom he was swimming. Out beyond the breakers, he called to his brother-in-law and stated: "I'm exhausted. I can't go further." The brother-in-law took him in tow and swam as far as he could with him towards the shore. Then he released him and rushed to the sand for a boat. Returning, Bryant had disappeared.

The body was recovered a short time later by life guards, who were under the impression that the man may have died from heart trouble. Efforts made to revive him with a pump were unsuccessful.

Bryant was on the beach with

FLAPPER FANNY SAYS:

Dream of Years Is Shattered By Navy Heads

LOS ANGELES, July 6.—(UP)—For years Artemus Shattuck Hickey, 68, dreamed of again walking the deck of the Frigate Constitution, otherwise known as Old Ironsides.

When a youth of 15, Hickey was a member of the famous vessel's crew and, so far as is known, the only living members of its complement.

When announcement was made that the ship would be sent on a good will tour in tow of a naval tug, Hickey applied for permission to make the trip.

But the navy department sent him word that the crew had been made up from the regular navy personnel. Hickey is left to his dreams.

SIX KILLED AS PLANE CRASHES INTO MOUNTAIN

Three Prominent California Golfers Among Those Who Lose Lives

LAKEPORT, Calif., July 6.—(UP)—The cause of one of the worst airplane accidents in northern California, in which five men and a woman were killed, remained a mystery as investigators searched the twisted wreckage of a plane where it had crashed against a mountainside.

Three of the men killed, George Ritchie, Leon Keller and Jack Kerrigan, were prominent California golfers. The other victims were Louis N. Becker, vice president of the Clear Lake Beach company, Los Angeles; Mrs. Sigmunda Lax of Long Beach, Calif.; and William Hoffman of Lucerne, the pilot.

Mrs. Lax was still alive when rescuers reached the plane at dusk last night, but she died a few minutes without regaining consciousness. The men were killed instantly.

Coroner H. M. Jones learned from witnesses that the plane, a new Travelair enclosed model which Hoffman brought here a few weeks ago, struck a tree atop a 300-foot knoll. The scene of the crash was near the Lucerne airport and it was believed Hoffman was gliding to a landing when his ship struck the tree, severing it.

The coroner said he had a report that another plane was off from the airport as Hoffman approached, indicating his attention may have been distracted and he failed to see the tree. It was also reported the plane's motor had failed.

George Horan, San Francisco golfer who had refused an invitation to accompany the others on the flight, and Joe Rey, local golfer, found the plane.

Ritchie, former San Francisco amateur golf champion, Keller, who lived in Los Angeles, and Kerrigan, former professional at the Rio Del Mar club, were here for holiday exhibition matches.

Mrs. Lax, mother of a seven-year-old daughter by a former marriage, was engaged to marry Becker. Hoffman is survived by a widow and two children.

138 PERSONS KILLED IN DOUBLE HOLIDAY

CHICAGO, July 6.—(UP)—Although it was hailed as "the safest Fourth of July on record," more lives were lost in the double holiday over the week end than in last year's Independence day celebration, a survey showed today.

Safety measures reduced greatly the toll of deaths from fire crackers, which once were considered the greatest Fourth of July menace, but automobile and airplane fatalities increased. Drownings also took an unusually large number of lives.

Here is a comparative list for 1930 and 1931, showing the numbers of deaths from airplane and automobile mishaps:

1931	1930
Automobile accidents	114
Automobile crashes	24

100 MOUNTAINEERS SEARCHING FOR LAD

SONORA, Cal., July 6.—(UP)—A searching party of 100 mountaineers and forest rangers pushed through a rugged section of the Sierras east of here today in search of 12-year-old David Fargo, missing since Saturday.

The boy became lost when he accompanied his father, R. H. Fargo of Los Banos, on a fishing trip along Niagara creek. David grew tired and his father sent him back alone to their camp.

Returning to the camp, the elder Fargo discovered David had not arrived. The search was organized in the fear that David may have fallen into the Stanislaus river or one of the many chasms in this part of the range.

SAN RAFAEL, Calif., July 6.—(UP)—The motion picture studio where Beatriz Michelena starred in "Salvation Nell," "Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch" and other films was in ruins today, the result of spontaneous heat explosions.

Two million feet of film stored in the deserted studio were set off in three blasts by the hot weather. The nearby homes of several wealthy San Rafael residents were undamaged.

MRS. MERRIAM PASSES AWAY EARLY TODAY

Wife of Lieutenant Governor of California Is Called Suddenly

SANTA ROSA, July 6.—(UP)—Mrs. Mary Ella Merriam, 74, wife of Lieutenant Governor Frank Merriam, died early today of a sudden attack of acute indigestion.

Mrs. Merriam awoke Merriam, he said later, shortly after 4 o'clock to complain of severe pain. Dr. W. C. Shipley of Santa Rosa was hurriedly called to her suite in the Occidental hotel, but Mrs. Merriam was dead when he arrived.

The Merriams had been returning by motor to their home in Long Beach from a vacation trip to the home of friends in Humboldt county.

They had planned to drive through to San Francisco last night, but Merriam said Mrs. Merriam complained that she was tired and suggested they stay the night here.

She did not complain of any discomfort other than fatigue when they retired, Merriam said, and the attack came without warning. Funeral arrangements will be completed today, though it was known the remains would be sent to Long Beach.

Mrs. Merriam was a native of New York state, but had lived in California for many years.

NEW YORK, July 6.—(UP)—Reports Miss Evelyn Wilson, 23, had broken an engagement to marry two months ago and that she had been followed recently by two men to a day enlivened search for the actress reported to have vanished Sunday.

The missing girl's black silk purse, containing $5.74, some cosmetics and addresses of three motion picture actors, Richard Dix, Grant Withers and Buddy Rogers, was the only tangible clue police had.

Santa Barbara Parade Float Is Criticized

SANTA BARBARA, July 6.—Temperance leaders and church women were incensed today, planning protests to the city council and the newspapers, because of the appearance of an anti-prohibition float in a Fourth of July parade.

To add to the disgust of the temperance workers, the float was awarded first prize. It was the entry of the Crusaders, national organization working for modification of the 12th amendment.

Appearance of the float in the parade, she said, was "a sacrilege against the flag, the Bible and the United States constitution."

VATICAN-ROME DISPUTE AGAIN SEEMS SERIOUS

Publication of Encyclical Causes Strained Feeling Over Italy

ROME, July 6.—(UP)—Strained relations between the Holy See and the government of Fascist Italy were dangerously near the breaking point again today as a result of the papal encyclical issued secretly abroad over the week end.

The encyclical—given out in Paris last Friday night before publication in Vatican City the next day—was a direct attack on the Fascist party for alleged attempts to tear the youth of Italy from the Roman Catholic church.

Amazement and irritation were expressed openly by Fascist government authorities led by Premier Benito Mussolini. The effect of the document, sent outside the realm of Fascism to insure its publication abroad without change, was electric, and a stiffening of the government's attitude in the prolonged dispute between church and state, was at once noticeable.

The Vatican, as a result, last night issued an apparently "inspired" statement seeking to explain the action of Pope Pius XI. The statement emphasized that the encyclical "is not to be considered an act of hostility against the Fascist regime."

NEW YORK, July 6.—(UP)—Bishop Francis J. McConnell, president of the federal council of Christ of America, today charged Will Hays, motion picture czar, sought to evade the real issue in the industry's controversy with the federal council, by drawing attention to a personal controversy between himself and George Reid Andrews.

The controversy was based on Dr. Andrews' suggestion that 10 per cent of the proceeds from the picture, "King of Kings," be devoted to the council's work.

WILL ROGERS SAYS:

BEVERLY HILLS, July 6. [To the Editor of The Register:] I got my first thanks yesterday for ever saying a nice thing about some man, and I do lots of times brag on our prominent men, but they always take it as a matter of fact. But the old Oklahoma oil man that backed the flight come through.

"Many thanks for your kind notice, and the best I can do in return is to take Post and Gatty to visit Claremore, Okla. Advise if you want us."

Now, here is a chance for these two boys to really make good. If Gatty can navigate enough to find a field there I'll say he is a Columbus and if Post can land on the field I'll say he is a magician. I have always had to use a parachute.

Yours,
WILL ROGERS.

SAYS IMPRISONING OF MOONEY WRONG

OAKLAND, July 6.—(UP)—The case of Tom Mooney and Warren Billings finds no modern parallel as a miscarriage of justice, according to J. Stitt Wilson, former mayor of Berkeley and until recently political advisor to Premier J. Ramsey MacDonald of Great Britain.

Speaking at the First Methodist Episcopal church here Sunday, Wilson described the incarceration of the two for complicity in the 1916 San Francisco bombing as a "disgrace to California."

"Time after time in my travels around the nation I have had to meet with criticism on this standing disgrace," he said.

PROPOSITION IS ACCEPTED TENTATIVELY

Accord Stipulates Ratification Is Necessary By All Interested Powers

APPROVAL INDICATED

Proposition to All Purposes Goes Into Effect As of July 1; Experts to Meet

WASHINGTON, July 6.—Hoover announces acceptance in substance of debt plan.

The accord stipulates that ratification is necessary by all interested powers before it becomes effective.

England, France, Germany and other powers already have indicated their approval.

The president said:

"I am glad to announce that the American proposal for one year's postponement of all inter-governmental debts and reparations has now been accepted in principle by all of the important creditor governments. The terms of acceptance are, of course, subject to the approval of the other interested powers, for whom the American government naturally cannot speak."

Substance of Plan

Without going into technical terms, while certain payments are made by Germany for reparations accounts, the substance of the president's proposal is retained and the sums so paid are immediately returned to Germany.

"The technical difficulties arising from many complicated international agreements which involve the aggregate payment between governments of over $500,000,000 per annum are now in the course of solution by the good will and earnest co-operation of government leaders everywhere."

Subject to Congress

"The American part of the plan, is, of course, subject to approval by congress, but I have received the individual assurances of support from a very large majority of the members of both senate and house, irrespective of political affiliations."

It was learned on the highest authority, after the conference, that the final French note was received during the afternoon, and, after a thorough discussion by the president and the acting secretaries of state and treasury, it furnished the basis of an accord. The plan is now to all purposes in effect as of July 1. The next step will be for experts of the nations included in the Young plan to meet and settle details as to payments in kind and other matters. No difficulty was anticipated, it was said, in the terms' meeting. They are to reach their agreements, as the president insisted, in spirit with the outline of the Hoover plan.

TWO OTHERS REPORTED TO BE MISSING

his wife and other relatives. He leaves five children.

Jack Wynn, 24, of 1905 West Sixty seventh street, Los Angeles, was drowned at the foot of First street, Huntington Beach, while his bride of a few months, horrified, looked on. Life guards, who went to his rescue brought the body to the beach after much difficulty, due to the fact that Wynn was a big man, and the inhalator squad of the fire department worked over the body for a long time, unsuccessfully.

Morris Drowns
Robert Morris, 29, Los Angeles, was drowned and his room-mate, M. J. Montgomery, was saved when both men were caught in a rip tide off the beach near the outlet of the Santa Ana river at Huntington Beach. Both were unconscious when life guards reached the shore with them, but Montgomery was revived with a pullmotor. Morris did not respond to the treatment, although his body was worked on for more than two hours.

Richard Maxson, 6, of Tustin, was drowned off Newport Beach, when he and his 11-year-old brother, Cecil, were caught in a rip tide and carried out to sea. They called for help and life guards rushed to them, bringing both to the sands in an unconscious condition. Every effort to revive Richard failed, but his brother was saved with the aid of an inhalator.

Ben Mushimi, 17, Japanese school boy, was one of the first to lose his life in the ocean on the Fourth. He was drowned at Laguna Beach early on Saturday morning when he got over his depth and could not swim. The body has not been recovered.

James E. Rafferty, 58, of 2319 Juliet street, Los Angeles, was drowned at Laguna Beach, when he ventured out too far to rescue a rubber ball from the surf. His body has not been found.

Hunt Missing

Following persistent reports that another Japanese youth was drowned in the surf late yesterday between Corona Del Mar and Laguna Beach, Newport Beach police and others were today scanning the sea. Efforts made to learn the identity of the youth have failed so far, it was reported.

Police at Huntington Beach last night were asked to conduct a search for Jack Hite, 17, of Altadena, who had not returned to his home after spending Sunday at the beach. His parents fear that he too may have drowned in the surf.

Life Guards Busy

With the beaches crowded with more people than any holiday has ever turned out before, an estimate of some 150,000 along the coast line, the Fourth was the busiest day in history for life guards, who at Newport Beach alone are said to have rescued more than 60 persons, caught in rip tides.

Never before this year has there been as many rip tides and there were so many rescues that guards did not have time to list the names of those saved.

More than 50,000 persons were on the beach at Huntington Beach during the day and every available parking space along the coast between Huntington Beach and Newport Beach was taken. Scores of persons, until guards, stationed at these places to keep the public away, threw up their hands in disgust. Every auto camp and beach camp along the highway was crowded. Tents dotted the coast line that those of a roving army and hot dog stands and restaurants did the biggest business in history.

Extra life guards were placed on duty at all the beach cities and each of them were exhausted before the day was over. Each had credit for saving a score of lives or more. No sooner had they reached the beach with one exhausted person, than they were called out to save another.

Yesterday was not such a busy day. The rip tides which visited the coast on the Fourth were not noticeable yesterday and few needed the services of life guards. All those who drowned lost their lives on July Fourth.

Inability to battle the sea in a rip tide, together with their limited knowledge of the surf when it is turbulent were given as chief reasons for the terrific death toll in the county over the holiday.

With a huge fire works display at Huntington Beach on the night of July Fourth, this beach town was overcrowded with people, many of whom had a celebration all their own after the city's display of fireworks had been witnessed.

800 BATTLING FOREST FIRES IN SOUTHLAND

FRESNO, July 6.—(UP)—More than 800 men today were fighting two forest and brush fires in Sequoia National Forest in the Sierras above the Southern San Joaquin valley, reported the worst such blazes in several years.

Both fires were reported today under only partial control. One had swept over brush, second growth and virgin timber near General Grant National park estimated at more than 20 square miles. More than 600 men, including 102 convicts, were fighting it. The blaze started in grass near Kings River Friday morning, probably from a cigarette.

A crew of 200 men were attempting to master the second blaze, believed of incendiary origin, in the Greenhorn mountains near Democrat Hot Springs, 27 miles east of Bakersfield. It was believed the crew would be augmented by new forces today.

The fire started Saturday afternoon in or near the southern part of Sequoia National Forest, and at one time was reported threatening Alta Sierra, mountain resort of Bakersfield's fashionable and scene of numerous expensive homes.

The Greenhorn mountains fire had covered only about 1200 acres of brush and a slight amount of timber. It was reported today by fire fighters who admitted they probably would be unable to control the blaze before tonight.

The blaze near General Grant park was reported under control of the wind does not spring up again. Fire fighters who were exhausted from as much as three days' work under the direction of Ray Stevenson, chief ranger of the Sequoia National Forest, were credited with probably saving General Grant park from serious damage. The fire was reported as a roaring inferno headed straight for the park Saturday when the then crew of about 500 men steered it away from the park and back toward the Kings river.

Although the park at the time was crowded with holiday visitors, no fears were felt for their safety. The road to the valley was clear and an invasion by fire would have been slow enough to give all ample time to leave, it was said.

Today it was reported only one small "spot" fire was giving serious trouble, although the fire fighters were hard pressed to hold the advantage they had gained since Friday. Present expectations were that the fire would burn itself out in the sparse growth among the barren rock of the Kings river.

Hume, an idle mountain lumber town, was undamaged by the fire that swept around it on three sides.

OVERALLS WHISKY CACHE

SELMA, N. C.—Eugene Morgan carried four half-gallon jars of whisky in his overalls, according to federal agents who arrested him near here. The jars dropped out of one by one as officers chased him.

WORLD FLIERS ARE RECEIVED BY PRESIDENT

Ernest L. Jahncke, Assistant Secretary of Commerce Clarence M. Young, Assistant Secretary of Navy, David S. Ingalls, rear admiral and Mrs. William A. Moffett, Major General and Mrs. James E. Fochet, F. C. Hall, backer of the World flight; Mrs. E. W. Allen, New York, and Mrs. George C. Scott, Richmond, Va., personal friends of the Hoover family.

Solemn faced and apparently a little awed, the fliers arrived at the White House executive offices at 12:40 p. m. and were received by the president.

A crowd of several hundred tourists gathered on the lawn behind lines of police, they waited more than half an hour before the aviators drove up.

The fliers left their wives in the car and stopped briskly into the executive offices. Although the crowd outside and the favored few inside applauded and smiled, neither Post nor Gatty gave any recognition of the demonstration.

Mr. Hoover was in conference but after a wait of a few minutes, Post and Gatty were ushered into the president's private office. Senator Bingham, Republican, Connecticut, aviation leader in congress, showed them the way. Mr. Hoover shook hands and congratulated them.

They chatted a few minutes and then retired to the lawn behind the office. Nearly 100 members of the Woodmen's lodge were drawn up there for a photograph not connected with the fliers' visit.

Mr. Hoover posed with the fliers and with the Woodmen before taking his honored guests to the mansion for lunch.

CHAS. TIDBALL TO TALK TO ROTARY CLUB

Charles Tidball of Geneva, Switzerland, former Santa Ana resident, will be heard Tuesday in two addresses on conditions in central Europe.

At noon he will address the Rotary club at its weekly meeting, according to President J. B. A. and the Council of International Relations.

Tidball for a number of years has been in Y. M. C. A. work in central Europe, where his occupation has given him unusual opportunities to observe and understand the conditions and the opinions of the people, it is said. He will be introduced for the Tuesday evening speech by J. A. Cranston, under whose superintendence he graduated from high school, and with whom he was associated in Y. M. C. A. service in this community.

The meeting at the Presbyterian church Tuesday evening will be most informal, according to the Rev. O. Scott McFarland, pastor, and all who are interested in hearing Tidball's impressions of European affairs are invited to attend.

GRAPE GROWERS IN DRIVE FOR BOARD

FRESNO, Calif., July 6.—(UP)—After more than three weeks' campaigning and with only until Friday night to go, the drive to pledge 10,000 additional acres to the federal farm board's grape industry program today was still at least 3800 acres short of realization.

That was the substance of an announcement Wylie M. Giffen, head of the drive and of California Raisin Pool, Inc., farm board organization, made public today.

The announced object of the drive is to satisfy farm board requirements for the $14,000,000 grape industry financing promised for this year.

Giffen said 5700 acres were known pledged and he believed unreported contracts would name about 500 acres more.

Giffen blamed the extreme heat of the last few days for the failure of some raisin growers to sign.

7500 Pieces Of Land Delinquent

County Tax Collector John Lamb announced today that 7500 pieces of Orange county property on which taxes have been delinquent, have been sold to the state. Lamb is completing a report to the state controller on the matter.

Although the number this year is about 1500 larger than it was last year, Lamb said it did not indicate anything in particular except that all lots on which owners did not care to pay taxes were being cleared off the county records.

The state will hold the property for five years, protecting it for the owners against claims of others. After that time, if it has not been redeemed, the property will be sold to the highest bidder at auction.

Stated meeting of Santa Ana Chapter No. 73, R. A. M., at K. P. Hall, Fifth and Broadway, S. A., July 6th, 7:30 p. m. Visiting companions cordially invited.

EVANGELICAL ASSEMBLY IS MEETING HERE

Dr. E. W. Praetorius, general secretary of Religious Education, preached three sermons at the Evangelical Assembly yesterday, the opening day of the annual camp meeting and conference.

"The Sins of the Kingdom" was his morning subject, from the text Romans 13:11. "It is time to wake out of sleep." "World conditions make this a day of great opportunity," he said. "We must take off the clothes of sleep and rest, and put on spiritual armor to establish God's kingdom on earth."

The speaker mentioned five things as the Sins of Christ's Kingdom. They are: 1, man-power; 2, munitions; 3, money; 4, morale; and 5, leadership.

The afternoon subject was "Jesus the Only Solution" in which youth's problem was discussed. "Youth has three problems," he said. "(1) Whom shall I serve? (2) What shall I do? (3) With whom shall I live?"

The evening subject was "The Face of Jesus." "The face is index of thought, motive and character," he said.

"In the face of Jesus we see the lines of true manliness and gentleness. His face shows the lines of courage. We never need to apologize for our Jesus."

AERIAL RATE WAR IN STATE LOOMING

SAN FRANCISCO, July 6.—(UP)—An aerial rate war was in progress on the Pacific Coast today with the reduction of fares by trans-Continental-Western Air to meet those of the newly established Century Airlines.

As a result both companies offered a San Francisco-Los Angeles flight at a tariff of $18.95, with proportionate charges to other points and a reduction on round trip tickets. When the first passenger lines were established three years ago the one way fare from San Francisco to Los Angeles was $50.

CLARK ASKS FOR NEW MURDER COUNT

LOS ANGELES, July 6.—(UP)—Filing of a motion by which David H. Clark, former deputy district attorney, hoped to compel the state to file a second murder information against him was continued until tomorrow at a superior court session today.

Clark was held for trial on charges of slaying Charles Crawford, politician and Herbert Spencer, magazine editor. Recently special Prosecutor W. Joseph Ford filed an information bringing Clark to trial August 3 on the single charge of slaying Spencer.

Church Forces Rallied In Gambling War

PASTORS URGE ATTENDANCE AT MASS MEETING

Ministers in a score of Santa Ana churches yesterday called attention of their congregations to the mass meeting that will be held next Friday night to further plans in the fight against continued operation of slot machines in Santa Ana and Orange county and urged participation in the meeting.

Thus were the church forces of the city rallied to the campaign which was started little more than a week ago at San Clemente when an attempt to introduce slot machines and punch boards in the Spanish village resulted in determined opposition by the citizens of that community.

Members of the congregations of the city were urged by their pastors to attend the meeting and take a stand in the effort to free the city from what has been characterized as "a nefarious business."

In urging attendance at the Friday night meeting, Dr. George A. Warner, pastor of the First Methodist church, declared that Santa Ana must have been slow to wait.

for Ole Hanson of San Clemente to bring to its attention the facts about gambling. He declared that he favors stopping it right away, urged attendance at Friday's meeting and pointed out that at that gathering some method of procedure should be developed in continuing the drive.

Moral Question Involved
The Rev. W. S. Buchanan, pastor of the First Christian church, declared that the question whether boys and girls should be taught to gamble was involved and said the machines were made to cheat and steal.

"There has come a call for a mass meeting Friday night," he said. "Let us rally to the cause." Necessity for action was stressed by the Rev. C. M. Aker, pastor of the Spurgeon Memorial Methodist church, South, who pointed out how peace is the result of right adjustment and right relations. The statement, "Blessed are the peacemakers," he said, does not mean stagnation in standing up for the right. First comes purity, then peace, he declared. "The kind of peace we want comes from the practice of righteousness. Peace makers are those who stand up for the right." Therefore he urged the necessity for righting the situation existing today.

Miller, manager of the Santa Ana Community Chest, announced today that at a meeting this week of the board of directors of that body, he will submit his resignation in order to accept his appointment as chief probation officer of San Francisco city and county. He will start his Bay City duties on July 15, at an increase in salary, and his family will move north on August 1. In San Francisco he will be in charge of all juvenile delinquency and juvenile dependency. The position has been open for the past year or more but Miller was approached first about two weeks ago, he said. Daniel Koshland, chairman of the San Francisco juvenile committee, contacted

Miller, on the proposition, he said. Miller, who came to the Santa Ana position two years ago, has been absent for 10 days on a vacation trip in the high Sierras accompanied by his family. He returned to this city last night. E. T. McFadden, president of the Chest, was absent on a vacation trip today and William J. Spurgue, vice president, is in Europe and no definite announcement as to future plans here was made.

Court Notes

A petition for letters of administration in the estate of the late Walter Apsden, who died on June 27, was filed today in the county clerk's office by Lena Apsden, widow, who lives in Anaheim. According to the petition the estate is valued at not more than $15,400 and consists chiefly of a five acre orange grove. In addition to Mrs. Apsden, Ruth E. Brooks, a daughter, was named as a beneficiary.

Don't go thru life run down, sick or suffering merely because the exact cause of your condition has never been POSITIVELY located and removed. Bear in mind that science has PROVEN that MOST cases of sickness are caused by PINCHED NERVES which in turn are unable to supply that vital nervous energy which nature intended should flow UNINTERRUPTED at all times to the organ or organs affected. In such cases the use of drugs, or undergoing operations can afford but temporary relief. It is always costly and in most cases positively DANGEROUS.

WOMAN ESCAPES; IS BACK IN HOSPITAL

With sheriff's officers, led by Sheriff Logan Jackson organized to scour the hills back of San Clemente for a woman, who late Friday escaped from the San Clemente hospital where she was being held pending the arrival of an ambulance to take her to the Orange County hospital for observation, Ruth Herron, 40, returned to within a mile of the hospital 30 hours after she had disappeared.

The woman, a mental case, escaped Friday afternoon and wandered through the hills back of San Clemente. Fear for her safety was expressed to the sheriff's office at 8:30 Saturday night and Sheriff Jackson organized a posse to search for her. When they arrived at San Clemente, the woman had been found.

Officers learned that she, on one occasion before, had wandered away and was gone for two days. This time she was found by a forest ranger, near El Toro.

At the time of her latest escape she was clad only in pajamas, and in spite of the long night's tramp and the number of hours she went without food and shelter, she was in good condition when she stumbled into the home of Dan Herron, near the San Clemente golf course. Herron returned her to the hospital and later she was brought to the county hospital here.

Pioneer Railroad Man Dies Saturday

Funeral services for John Whelan, 81, a resident of Santa Ana for the past 35 years, will be held tomorrow morning at 8:30 o'clock from the St. Joseph Catholic church with the Rev. Father F. A. Wekenman officiating. He passed away at his home at 709 East Sixth street July 4 after an illness of a year's duration. Interment will be made in the Calvary cemetery in Los Angeles under the direction of the Smith and Tuttle Funeral home.

He was a retired employee of the Southern Pacific Railroad company, having worked for them as foreman for 30 years. In 1879 he went to Japan to help build the first railroad ever built in that country.

He is survived by one son, William J. Whelan of San Francisco and one daughter, Kathleen Whelan, a teacher in the Los Angeles city schools.

Thieves Take 2 Autos On Fourth

Auto thieves stole two automobiles in Orange county over the Fourth of July holiday, according to reports made to the police. Neither car has been recovered. Paul Cody, of 453 North Center street, Anaheim, reported the theft of his machine from an Anaheim street, Saturday night and a car registered to Al Cavaness, of 715 South Sycamore street, was reported stolen from Fifth street, just east of Main street, in Santa Ana, last night.

Arrest Mexicans On Fight Charge

Three Mexicans were arrested by Officers Nicholson and Nickles, of the sheriff's office at Talbert Saturday afternoon after they had engaged in a "free for all" fight, according to reports made by the investigators.

Christoran Moreno was taken to the Orange county hospital, where he was treated for a number of little cuts and holes in his face, alleged to have been done with the sharp end of a bed pole, in the hands of Burnabe Calderon, who told officers, they said, that Moreno had attacked him with it and he had taken in away from him. Trinidad Moreno was the other man arrested. He is a brother of Christoran and claims he knew nothing of the fight. All three prisoners are booked for disturbing the peace.

WATER NEEDS STRESSED BY C. C. CHAPMAN

That practically every dollar of Orange county's $43,000,000 farm crops last year was made possible only by water and that "we never can feel safe in making further development of acreage or feel assurance of a stabilized water supply until we 'hook up' with the Colorado river" were declarations made recently by C. C. Chapman, prominent Orange county agriculturist, in discussion of Metropolitan Water District affairs.

Although stressing particularly the condition in Orange county, Chapman declared that Southern California must go to the Colorado river for water, with the least possible delay.

Calling attention to the rapidly lowering underground supply, Chapman said, "What a colossal disaster it would be should we find that we had entirely exhausted this reservoir. Or even that we had lowered the water plane to a point where it would be entirely too expensive to lift the water to the surface."

"We would then become panicky and be willing to pay any price for water. The only safe course, at any reasonable cost, is for us to secure a dependable supply of water from the Colorado river."

SPENCERS OBSERVE 60TH WEDDING ANNIVERSARY IN CYPRESS STREET HOME

Sixty summers and 60 winters have followed each other in happy succession since Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Spencer, 312 Cypress street, were wed in Fairport, Iowa, on July 5, they report.

Life for Mr. and Mrs. Spencer, G. T. Hoffman and Miss Grace Spencer of the family home on Cypress street, Mrs. Charles Tangye of Denver, Colorado, and Roy Spencer, of Orland, California are the children who visited the home to brighten the memories of the happy couple.

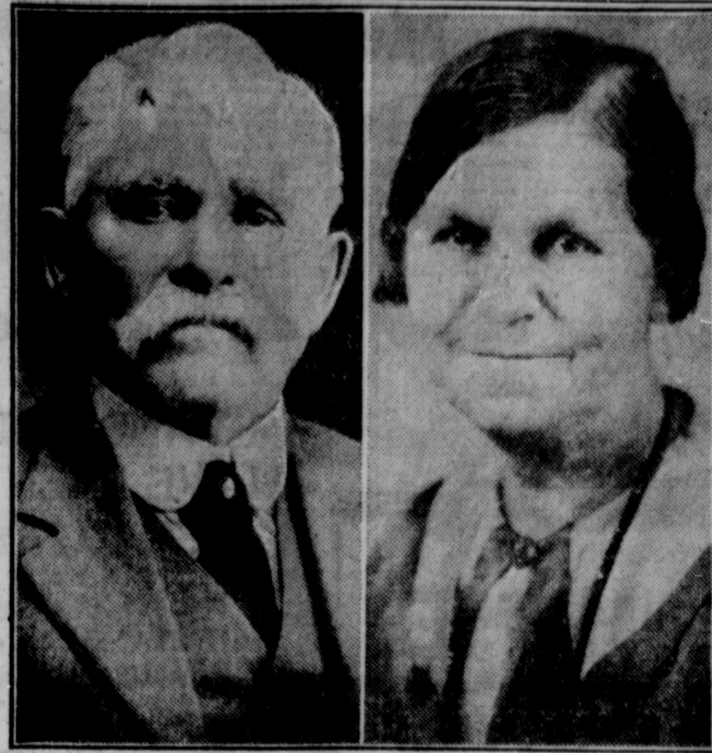

Mr. and Mrs. Spencer have lived in Santa Ana since 1917 and have lived in California since 1909, coming here from Colorado. They recently spent four months at Balboa. Spencer was born in Worthington, West Virginia, in 1849 and when but 15 years old enlisted in the army during the Civil War. He served in the Union army under General George Custer and participated in the famous battles of Droop Mountain and Cedar Creek in addition to a number of smaller engagements. He was in the home guard service previous to the outbreak of the war.

Often times the veteran picks up his old violin that he has played for over 60 years and plays the old time melodies that are dear to the heart of those whose boyhood were spent in humming and whistling them. Many old cronies gather to hear him play at the home. "I just think of the time I want to play and my fingers never fail me," he said, "It's a good thing, I guess, because you know I can't see any longer."

It was this same violin that caused Mr. and Mrs. Spencer to meet those long years ago. Spencer and a friend used to play for dances and parties in the little village in Iowa and it was at one of these affairs that the two met. Mr. and Mrs. Spencer were engaged in the pottery business in Fairport at the time, the same business that Spencer has followed most of his life. In the home on Cypress street are many beautifully shaped vases that were fashioned by Mr. Spencer in the days before he retired.

WED SIXTY YEARS

Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Spencer, 312 Cypress street, below, who observed their 60th wedding anniversary, are being honored today with a reception at the home. They are prominent in G. A. R. and social circles.

GLIDER CRASH KILLS YOUNG MAN AT BEACH

While his young wife looked helplessly on, Clyde White, 29, of 335 West Fourteenth street, Long Beach, fell to his death at Corona del Mar yesterday afternoon when his Smith-Orlolo glider plane fell 40 feet, after going into a nose dive.

Virtually every bone in his body was crushed. His skull was fractured, and both arms and legs were broken in the fall.

Accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. O. G. Smith, 285 Quincy street, Long Beach, owner of the glider, White and his wife went to the hills near Corona del Mar to fly. He had had some experience with the glider and is reported to have made 40 flights prior to the fatal one.

Towed by a car, the glider rose prettily off the ground and was seen to fly for some two miles, before White turned it back to make a landing. Suddenly the ship was seen to head straight for the earth. White turned the nose up and the plane almost turned over and then again shot towards the ground. This time it did not right itself.

Mrs. White, sensing that her husband was killed even before friends reached the wrecked plane, collapsed and was reported in a serious condition at her home, where she was taken immediately. White was dead when Smith reached him.

The body was taken to the Grooms-Reisenberg funeral parlors at Costa Mesa, where Coroner Charles D. Brown, who took charge of the body will hold an inquest today.

Both Smith and White had been flying the glider before the fatal crash, taking turn about at the controls.

1083 USE POOL AT S. A. HIGH SCHOOL

An all-time record on attendance was set last week on the 10 playgrounds in Santa Ana, according to an announcement today by L. W. Archer, director.

The total attendance at playgrounds was 5076. In addition 1083 persons used the high school pool last week, according to Coach Clyde Patton, who is in charge there. The pool was not open Saturday.

Last week's playground attendance was close to 1000 larger than that of the week previous, when the total was 4318.

The twilight tennis tournament conducted on the high school courts brought out 102 players, while a large number of others not participating in the contest also used the courts, Archer said.

URGES CHURCH TO FIGHT FOR ENFORCEMENT

The words of Isaiah, "Until righteousness go forth," found in Isaiah 62:1, were made the subject of the sermon preached yesterday morning at the First Christian church by the Rev. Walter S. Buchanan, in which Christian citizens were urged to take a deep interest of the needs of the world and endeavor to raise the standards of the world.

The Rev. Mr. Buchanan pointed to a particular phase of this need in Orange county and strongly urged support for the campaign against slot machines which is now being waged.

"We must not fail to hold the moral ground that has been gained," the pastor told his congregation. "If we lose it is a lessening of the power of this nation. All hell is turned against us, but Jesus said 'The gates of hell shall not prevail against my church.' It is up to us to uphold the integrity of our nation. Lawlessness is appalling. Un-godly men and women are fighting to put one of their kind in the presidential chair a year from next fall.

"In our county there has come a call for assistance. The sheriff of the county told me a few days ago it was up to the citizens to loosen the hands of their officers and let them enforce the law. Next Friday night there is to be a called meeting of citizens to discuss whether our boys and girls shall be taught to gamble. Shall we say this is not our business? These machines are made to cheat and steal. Do we want our children to do this? Rally to this cause, men and women, go to the meeting and get behind this movement to help clean up our city.

"All over the world hands are being pointed toward America. The question is being asked if America is strong enough to fight and enforce the law. Gambling and ungodliness goes on because men do not care how they get their money and power.

"The disregard of their voting privilege by Christian people is appalling. There are many who are not even registered. The ballot box is where we will fight the battle a year from next November when we fight the vote.

"We as a nation must continue to relieve the world's misery if we are to do what God wants us to do. We must turn to Christ and declare we will proclaim His gospel. We must associate ourselves with the nations of the world to raise the standards of citizenship.

"How can we best accomplish these things? There is only one way of raising standards and teaching citizens respect for law. That is for us all to be filled with the passion of Isaiah for righteousness. Let us move forward as God wants us to do."

SAYS P. E. WILL NOT ABANDON BEACH LINES

Denying that the Pacific Electric railroad was contemplating abandonment of its system between Long Beach and Balboa A. T. Mercier, general manager of the company with offices in Los Angeles today declared that reports that the company would abandon the line within a year's time were without foundation.

"The line between Long Beach and Balboa is one of our main lines, and we certainly have no intention of abandoning the line," Mercier declared. He stated that perhaps the rumor had been circulated after having become confused with the information released relative to the building of a new bridge over Alamitos bay in which Orange county, Los Angeles county, Seal Beach and Long Beach will co-operate. The P. E. tracks will be torn up temporarily while the new bridge is built, Mercier declared. Work on the project will begin within the next 60 days, he said.

The report that the P. E. would abandon the line created a great deal of interest in this section and the Sunset Beach Chamber of Commerce had already made tentative plans to acquire part of the right-of-way through the town for public purposes, if the right of way was abandoned.

ORANGE, July 6. — Valencia Grove lodge No. 28, Woodmen circle of Santa Ana, met in the Smith and Grote hall at Orange the latter part of the week. ## ORANGE PASTOR FILLS PULPIT AT EL MODENA

EL MODENA, July 6.—The Rev. S. M. Eldsath, pastor of the Menonite church of Orange, was the speaker at the Friends church yesterday at the morning service. He said in part:

"You will find my text in Philippians 3:10, this morning. 'That I may know him, and the power of his resurrection, and the fellowship of his suffering, being made conformable unto his death.' You immediately recognize the words of Paul, expressing a longing of his own heart. He has been reviewing his status as a Christian compared with his fellow Jews, when he came as a Pharisee, to see the truth. There came a day when he felt all his old life was wrong; he wanted to follow Christ and to turn his back upon all of these things, which he counted now, as refuse. 'That I may know him, and be made conformable'—it seems to me this is one of the highest pictures of his own soul.

"To know a personality is somewhat different from knowing a town or city. I have sometimes said of a city, I know it like a book; I could find my way in the city to any place for which I was looking. With a person it is different; we search the depths of the living reality or being; the person bears acquaintance.

"We have said to ourselves, 'I know him,' but did we know the person we met years ago? Did we know the personality?"

"Paul had met Jesus Christ on the road to Damascus. In the Syrian noon-day sun. He heard Him speak to him, and I think Paul would say, 'I have met Him.' As he went on with Christ, and his character unfolded, and he had a glimpse of the 'fellowship of his sufferings,' he caught a vision of Christ's unfolding to the world, and of his growing in men's mind and heart."

Initiation of a class of new members for the Santa Ana organization by the Los Angeles Grove and its drill team. This drill team won the prize at the state convention in March at Long Beach.

New Books IN PUBLIC LIBRARY

BY VERA RAMSEY

The major political phenomenon in Europe today is the rise of dictators. Out of the post-war disorder have come Mussolini, Stalin, Kemal, and others to test the value of more action and fewer words. Royalty remains as a social distinction, democracy has been found wanting, and new political faiths such as Communism and Fascism, almost religious in their fervor, have come into power. Lenin replaces God in Russia and Stalin is his prophet; Mussolini becomes Caesar; Kemal modernizes Turkey. Again mankind questions: The State for the Citizen, or the Citizen for the State? "Dictatorship on Trial" edited by Otto Forst de Battaglia discusses this urgent question.

In this volume, dictatorship in Austria, Poland, Greece, Turkey, Portugal, Hungary, Italy and Russia is analyzed by eminent historians, philosophers, statesmen, writers. Not only are the actual workings of dictatorship described with the proper historical background, but the subject is discussed in relation to religion, letters, science, general culture. Among the collaborators well known to Americans are Guglielmo Ferrero, Wickham Steed, Andre Maurois, Maurice Bedel, Ferdinand Ossendowski, and Albert Einstein. Others are Walter von Meis, president of the German Academy; Emilio Bodiere, the spiritual theorist of Fascism; Anatole de Monzie, head of the French Radical party in the Chamber of Deputies; Emile Vandervelde, leader of the Belgian social democracy and the Second International; Jules Sauerwein, foreign editor of Le Matin; Dr. Lobe, former president of the Reichstag; and Count de Romanones, late prime minister of Spain.

"Dictatorship on Trial" is of infinite importance to America where "big business" is becoming dictator, morality is legislated, and the meaning of democracy and civil liberty is under discussion.

How much, when you stop to think about it, do you know about Poland? A blurred, but thrilling picture flashes across your mind. You recall a valiant struggle for a lost cause, the oppressor's hand weighing heavily upon a crushed but courageous people. In Poland the "Unexplored" by Grace Humphrey, we find the whole fascinating and inspiring story—the tragedy of a nation sold into slavery, holding its identity under foreign oppression, regaining gloriously a new freedom, and resuming its national life in a spirit of wonderful self-sacrifice by the individual for the common good.

Poland, the old and new nation, holds the glamour of the unknown and of the mysterious. Who has not read and been intensely thrilled with stories of warring knights, ruined castles, and secret underground passageways? Here is a country where the stories are still current, where the ancient castles and secret passages may actually be seen. It is a land of passionate patriotism that holds treasures for the imaginative, the romantically inclined, where the past is cherished and lives in the present.

Miss Humphrey spent fifteen months in Poland studying the country, absorbing its history and getting acquainted with its people. Her sympathetic approach, her enthusiasm combined with her carefulness not to indulge in excesses of praise, her real appreciation of beauty and the personal touches in her descriptions fill even the confirmed stay-at-home with a longing to set forth for this seldom visited but most hospital land. The reader will find that Poland holds for the traveler all the attractions of the better known European countries combined with the fascination of a romantic and distinct individuality.

The trumpeter at Krakow today always pauses on a broken note in memory of a trumpeter in the middle ages who died at his post rather than be unfaithful to his oath. It is a beautiful story, a typical Polish story—and it is typical of this book and of the interest you will find in the author's lively, sympathetic, colorful exploration of an unfamiliar but fascinating story.

A king within a republic, a white man ruling over an island of black natives, supreme within the boundaries of his coral reefs, outside of it a sergeant of the United States Marines—was Faustina Wirus, "The White King of La Gonave" by Faustina Wirus and Tanev Dudley is his true and glamorous story.

When his Polish mother christened him Faustina after one of her favorite saints she little dreamed that she was giving her son the letters patent of his royalty. Inmate out of the Wilkes Barre coal deed, the grubby little boy picking chutes until his fingers bled felt anything but royal. At seventeen he ran away to join the marines and not very long after caught the first sight of his kingdom on a transport sailing into Haiti. Soon afterward the queen of La Gonave was brought before him as a fat old negress, a prisoner with the dignity of royalty.

When she learned that his name was Faustina she recognized him as the reincarnation of the old emperor Faustine I whose miraculous return was prophesied by the wise man of the cliffs. When Faustina was sent to La Gonave as resident district manager the old queen knew that the prophecy had been fulfilled. How she and her sub-queens initiated Faustina into the secrets of their Congo society and crowned him emperor with Vodoo rites, how he became absolute ruler, settled their disputes, imported good stock and seed, doctored them, brought up their babies according to Dr. Holt, chased their bandits, and brought them peace and prosperity is a story more thrilling than fiction.

And never has a white man been initiated so deep into the Vodoo mysteries and returned to tell about them. Faustina's account of his coronation and of the ancient Vodoo festivals is a fascinating chapter of black magic.

DID YOU KNOW THAT—
The fame of a "world's fastest human" is a fleeting one... three years ago Percy Williams dashed out of nowhere to become the hero of the Olympic Games at Amsterdam... a year after the Olympics he beat Tolan and Wykoff in a special match at Vancouver, but the margin was not as decisive as his victory at Amsterdam... Last year, Tolan and George Simpson beat Williams at Vancouver, Tolan equalling Padock's record of 10 2-5 for the 100 meters... this year not only Wykoff but Tippino and Cy Lealand beat Percy in a match race... Williams finished out of the money... the winner's time was 9 5-10 for the hundred yards.

"WEAK" SPOTS OF THE A'S
References to Max Bishop and Joe Boley as "weak spots" in the Athletics infield have been frequent and I think ill-advised. I have seen both of them come up with brilliant plays when a crisis called for sensational effort.

During the first game of the last world series Joe Boley executed an almost impossible stop and throw. As it turned out, Boley's play cut off a run that would have materialized that inning had the batter been safe. Boley's bat has been generally impotent during the two world series in which he has played, but his brilliant fielding has saved the pitchers time and again.

The same goes for Bishop. Taking their lifetime major league batting averages, Boley and Bishop are swinging along pretty close together, Boley having a mark of .260 while Bishop has .268. Bishop came up from Baltimore in 1924; Boley finally arrived three years later, coming up from the same team.

ON WAY DOWN
Connie Mack must have believed Bishop was about through in 1929. I know he was tickled at Port

Test Huntington Beach Nine

OILERS OPPOSE S. A. TUESDAY, THEN ANAHEIM

This is the week which will definitely determine the status of Jack Robertson's Huntington Beach Oilers, one of the real ones to beat for the second half championship of the National Night Baseball league.

Undefeated in four starts and technical leader of the race, Huntington Beach encounters the sternest opposition in the league tomorrow and Friday nights. If the Oilers stand muster this week, especially if they win from the likewise unbeaten Anaheim nine, Robertson's organization will be established as a ranking contender for that much sought playoff with Santa Ana for the title.

Huntington Beach has this advantage. It draws both Santa Ana and Anaheim on its home grounds which, if it is not an advantage, is certainly no disadvantage. On the other hand, as current pace-setter, the Oilers will be the object of every opponent's concentrated energy and that is hardly an advantage as Santa Ana, first half winner, will attest.

Boast Best Hitting
The Oilers now have championship hitting as well as pitching, and if their defense holds up accordingly there are no reasons why the seaside squad should crack up. Howard Morning is having his best year in the box since his palmy days with Long Beach in 1927 and 1928. His first one has a real hope on it this term and he has been able to go full nine innings without "blowing" as he did last summer.

The Huntington Beach offense, always strong, is now absolutely the best in the circuit with the addition of the potent wands of "Chief" Clarence Hayes, the giant from Garden Grove, and his teammate, Jake "Lefty" Garr, who can play first base or any outfield position with neatness.

The slugging of Hayes and Garr, added to that of Odie Maness, Frank Liebzeit, Bill Dushman and Ed Daley is tentatively elected to return to first base because "Big Bill" Cole is anxious to return to the comfortable confines of his retirement from which he was drafted when Wilcox was hurt and Daley automatically became a catcher.

"Doc" Smith, inserted at second base at the same time, has been hitting so well that Lackaye hesitates to bench him in the natural change to the "old lineup" of Leavitt Daley at second, and Bell, Nelson and Merrill in the outfield.

The Anaheim-Huntington Beach battle Friday comes on the same day as Santa Ana's quarrel here with North Long Beach. Although "Chico" Sabella has joined Anaheim's staff and is pitching himself into condition against city league competition, "Fuzzy" Errington is likely to be used against Huntington Beach. Sabella may draw the assignment tomorrow against Fullerton. Errington's slow ball has fooled every team in the league and is more likely to curb Huntington Beach's long distance hitting than Sabella's fast ones.

UZZUDUN WINS RENO VERDICT FROM BAER

RENO, Nev., July 6.—(UP)—The welter of gloves that flew in the 20-round bout between Paulino Uzcudun and Max Baer, the California butcher boy, kept 17,500 July Fourth fans on edge but it was generally agreed today that hopes for a new heavyweight title contender had not been realized.

Not a murmur of complaint arose when Promoter-Referee Jack Dempsey raised the Basque's hand in token of victory at the end of a score of rounds under the boiling Nevada sun. Baer had tried hard and at times had appeared to be the winner, but the last three rounds saw Uzcudun come through with a mighty rush that meant only defeat for the Livermore youth.

Yank Tennis Men Off For Cup Matches

WIMBLEDON, Eng., July 6.—(UP)—The United States Davis Cup team of Francis X. Shields, Sidney B. Wood, George Lott and John Van Ryn left here today for Paris where they will rest for a few days before beginning workouts in preparation for the interzone final match.

The United States stars, who won the lion's share of honors in the annual Wimbledon tennis tournament which closed Saturday, will meet the winner of the Great Britain-Czechoslovakia contest for the right to challenge France for the Davis Cup.

Before leaving here, Samuel Hardy, non-playing captain of the American team, announced that Shields' injured knee was healing rapidly and that he would be in condition to play in the interzone match.

SCHMELING TO DEFEND TITLE IN SEPTEMBER

By DIXON STEWART
NEW YORK, July 6.—Max Schmeling will defend his world's heavyweight championship again in September against either Primo Carnera or the winner of the Jack Sharkey-Mickey Walker fight.

Schmeling and his manager, Joe Jacobs, told of their plans for the September battle, at Jersey City, Philadelphia or Chicago, in an exclusive interview with the United Press today.

They are scheduled for a conference with President W. F. Carney of Madison Square Garden and Damon Runyan, representing the New York milk fund, which will share in the promotion of the September bout, sometime before Schmeling sails for Germany at midnight, tonight.

Jacobs revealed that although the champion's contract with the Garden calls for a bout with Carnera, there is a possibility that the winner of the Sharkey-Walker match, scheduled at Brooklyn late this month, may be substituted.

TILDEN FAVORED TO TAKE PRO TOURNEY

NEW YORK, July 6.—(UP)—William T. Tilden II, ruled as a heavy favorite to win first honors at the first round matches in the annual National Professional tennis tournament began today at Forest Hills stadium.

Tilden, who deserted the amateur ranks last year, has been seeded No. 2. Vincent Richards, present titleholder, was seeded No. 1. Other seeded entrants include Francis Hunter and Karol Kobeluh.

Six golfers split the spoils after the annual Fourth of July medal play tournament at the Santa Ana Country club, competition that attracted an entry of approximately 90 members.

Ed Holmes, the club champion, and W. W. (Bill) Foote, Saint athletic coach, had low gross in Class A. Both players circled the Newport boulevard acreage in 76, four above par. Their handicaps being identical, they had 68 for net.

C. W. (Bud) Hoyle took down low net honors, however, with a snappy 79-14-65 which was well off by himself.

Class B winners were J. W. Beach and Eugene Fenelon for low gross with 85's and L. J. Bushard for low net with 89-24-65.

COAST GOLFER STROKE AHEAD FOR FIRST 18

INVERNESS GOLF CLUB, Toledo, O., July 6.—George von Elm of California fought his way out of the rough and, against the terrible strain of added competition, led Billy Burke by one stroke at the end of the first 18 holes of their 36-hole playoff for the National Open golf championship today.

The round was not the most brilliant in the Open tournament but it was one of the most stout-hearted in history. The two wearied players came to the clubhouse with Von Elm carding a 76 against Burke's 77.

It was see-saw from the start, spectacular at times, and also a dub battle at others. But neither player would succumb and every poor hole was followed by one beautifully executed. A hole-by-hole description of the first 18:

COAST LEAGUE CLUBS IN NEW RACE TUESDAY

LOS ANGELES, July 6.—(UP)—The Pacific Coast league will get off to a new start tomorrow, wiping clean the slate which showed Hollywood to be champions of the first half of the split season.

Official announcement of the splitting of the season, a few days late, to be sure, was forthcoming today from President Harry A. Williams. Directors of the league also voted a bonus of $10,000 in the event different clubs win the first and second halves, necessitating a playoff for the league title.

The league may have a different complexion during the first half, for several clubs have been growing in strength.

In fact, there are those who would not be surprised to see Oakland step out after finishing in the basement, and do things in a big way in the second half.

The chief reason for this Acorn reversal of form is the fact that George Burns, who resigned as manager of the Mission club, effective Sunday, may join the Oaks as manager, instead of playing first base for the Los Angeles Angels, as he had indicated he might do.

Burns said he would confer with Oak owners today regarding the possibility he would become playing-manager. Carl Zamlock is to become secretary, scout and coach for the Acorns. It was reported, with Victor Davenport succeeding Robert Miller as president of the club.

ROBINS ONLY FOUR GAMES FROM CARDS

NEW YORK, July 6.—(UP)—Fears that the Brooklyn Robins kicked away their 1931 National league pennant hopes during an early season slump appeared to have been premature.

The Robins, who spent the first two months of the season buried in the second division, have won 18 of their last 22 contests to climb to third place, only four games behind the St. Louis Cardinals, current pace-setters.

DEMPSEY'S LOSS IN RENO BOUT $10,000

RENO, July 6.—(UP)—Jack Dempsey and his associates lost $10,000 in promoting the Baer-Uzcudun fight, Leonard Sacks, Dempsey's business manager, announced today.

Though more than 17,000 persons jammed the big pineboard arena, paid admissions totaled only 9260.

Gross receipts were $70,202, Sacks said.

Despite the loss, Dempsey was laying plans today for a world's championship fight on Labor Day.

PICK SOUTH AFRICA TOUR TRACK SQUAD

LINCOLN, Neb., July 6.—Nin outstanding athletes left Lincoln today as members of an American track and field team that will tour South Africa, sailing from New York July 8, and returning in October.

The squad will be composed of Emmett Toppino, Loyola, and C. Leland, Olympic club, sprinters; J. E. Hatfield, Indiana, hurdler; Vic Williams, Los Angeles, and Nate Long, Salt Lake, quarter miler; Eddie Genung, Washington, half-mile; Frank Crowley, New York, mile; Barney Berlingue, Penn A. C., all around, and Walte Marty, Olympic club, high jump.

The Los Angeles Athletic club won both junior and senior championships during the National A. U. trackfest here. Percy Beard cracked the world record in the 120-yard high hurdles, running it 14.2 seconds. The old mark, 14, was made by Earl Thompson of Dartmouth, in 1920.

Merry Group Picnics Amidst Charms of Hewes Park

Hewes park, with its grasses "dew perled," its oleander trees heavy with fragrant bloom, and its lily ponds all roofed over with broad velvet leaves and exotic lotus blossoms, was an ideal setting for a Fourth of July breakfast which Mrs. Marshall, Northridge planned as a courtesy to her guest, Miss Frances Emans of Los Angeles.

In reality there were two guests from out-of-town to share honors at the pleasant affair, for Miss Martha Whitson also had a friend here for the holiday week end, Miss Dora Doyle of Los Angeles. The merry little group motored to the park early Saturday morning, and it was only a short time until footstools and hot cakes were being served with maple syrup, grilled bacon and hot coffee to follow the fruit course.

The picnickers remained at this park for the forenoon hours, enjoying several rounds of golf on the famous Chinese course. In the party were Mrs. Northridge and her guest, Miss Emans; Miss Whitson and her guest, Miss Doyle; Mrs. Ruth Riley and Miss Pauline Riley.

Bridge Games Enjoyed By Group of Friends

Bidding a little group of her friends to her home at 1201 West Fifth street, Mrs. A. A. Schlusman was hostess recently at an enjoyable afternoon of bridge. The screen porch of the home provided a cool and pleasant setting for the games.

When tables were checked it was found that Mrs. C. A. Schleif held high score and Mrs. Florence Hicks, low. The hostess then served refreshments of ice cream and cake.

Those present, other than Mrs. Schlusman, were Mrs. Theresa McMullen, Mrs. Trina Miller, Mrs. G. C. Putnam, Mrs. Florence Hicks, Mrs. W. H. Elmsman, Mrs. Lauren Threlkeld, and Mrs. C. A. Schleif.

Well-known Santa Ana Weds Pasadena Girl in Church of Flowers

It was in the beautiful Little Church of the Flowers in Glendale, that J. Robert Paine, well-known Santa Ana, son of Mrs. Adelaide Paine, 1818 North Main street, and Ada Peak, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Jewett, East J street, Wilmington, were wedded on Thursday, July 2.

Only a few close friends were present for the ceremony which was an early morning affair occurring at 8:30 o'clock. The bride wore a pale blue wool, in which she was to travel when they left for their honeymoon. With this she wore hat, gloves and slippers of white, with a corsage bouquet of orchids and lilies of the valley to complete her effective appearance.

Mrs. C. M. Clegg of Manhattan Beach, as matron of honor, was gowning in orchid chiffon with which she wore sweet peas in pastel tones. C. M. Clegg assisted Mr. Paine as best man. The Rev. Walter E. Edmonds, pastor of the Glendale First Presbyterian church, read the marriage service.

Following the ceremony was a smartly appointed breakfast served at the Garden Inn in Glendale, with a dozen guests including Mr. and Mrs. George J. Hawley and Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Drake of Long Beach, in addition to members of the two families.

Mr. and Mrs. Paine left at once on a honeymoon to be spent in motoring through the Pacific northwest, and upon their return will establish their home in Pasadena. Mr. Paine is connected with the Santa Ana wholesale grocery firm of Smart and Final. He has always been active in musical and dramatic circles of this city, and has a host of friends to extend congratulations on his marriage.

Surprise Party Honors Wedding Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Jasper's wedding anniversary was celebrated by a delightful surprise party planned in their honor Friday evening by their daughter, Mrs. Millard Boyd. The enjoyable affair was held in the latter's home, 1801 South Van Ness avenue.

The hours were devoted to playing 600, with Mrs. Minnie Harris and Mr. Jasper scoring high, and Mrs. Lillian Harris and Earl Bower, low. Five tables of cards were in session.

To conclude the evening, refreshments of angel-food cake and ice cream were served.

What Paris is Wearing

By K. D'ORSAY

PARIS—Many are the uses of the handbag jewel these days. No longer is it the simple clasp it used to be—just a decoration hiding the more utilitarian fastening beneath. Clasp are more than their name indicates nowadays—every clasp has become a safety clasp that can be opened easily only by the initiated.

Other than these, jeweled clasps seen in Paris this year are of a button variety, following out some definite decorative scheme. Witness the bag in the sketch, with its assembly of lines carried out by the slashed laple settings. The two buttons serve a useful purpose—they are genuine buttons, combined with large metal tones to pass through large button-holes. The carved portion at the upper corner fits over both sides of the bag.

The bag itself is of navy blue, the laple settings are shot with color, and the bag lining is red—an example of the combination of color used by Paris right now. It is carried with a costume that includes navy frock, red belt and white lingerie collar and cuffs.

Paris Handbag Jewels Take Many New Forms

Miss Vera Morrison Is Charming Bride of Arthur Cannon

Occasioning a certain amount of surprise to their friends, who had been kept in ignorance of their chosen wedding date, Miss Vera Morrison, charming only daughter of Walter Morrison, 617 North Carnegie avenue, and Arthur L. Cannon, prominent young business man of this city, were wedded at high noon on the national holiday, July 4.

The ceremony took place in St. Joseph's rectory with the Rev. Father P. A. Welkman reading the impressive service in the presence of only a very few friends. These included the bride's father, Mr. Morrison, who has been confined to his home for the past five months, suffering with a broken foot. On this important occasion, however, he made a special effort to be out although he had to appear on crutches.

Miss Morrison, who is a blonde with a delicate and lovely coloring, was married in the smart white boucle tulle which she was to wear on departing for her honeymoon. With this she wore dress accessories in black and white, completing her effective costume with a corsage of fragrant gardenias.

Mrs. Kenneth Newman, attired in graceful chiffon in flowered design, was honor matron, while Mr. Newman served Mr. Cannon as best man. Immediately after the ceremony, the new Mr. and Mrs. Cannon left for an automobile honeymoon whose destination remained their own secret. They will return to this city to make their home about the middle of July.

Mr. Cannon is a newcomer to the city, having arrived a little over a year ago to assume the management of the local branch of the Great Atlantic and Pacific Tea company. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles D. Cannon of Windsor Locks, Conn., and was graduated with high honors from Holy Cross college, Worcester, Mass.

His bride is a native daughter not only of the state but of Santa Ana itself. She followed her graduation from Polytechnic high school with special work in music at Santa Ana junior college. For the past year she has been employed at Maxine's Hat shop.

Since announcement was made of the engagement of the young people, there has been a succession of enjoyable parties and showers given in compliment to the bride.

Relief Corps

A patriotic program of much interest was given this past week in the home of Mrs. Alice Yount, 2433 Heliotrope drive, where members of the W. R. C. were entertained. Many lovely flowers from the gardens of the home were used in decorating.

The program followed the business session, called to order at an early hour. "The Making of the Flag," with historical sketches of the 13 states forming the union used as illustrations, was given by Mrs. Estelle Gray. Mrs. Mary Russell read "Your Flag and My Flag," after which Ida Williams gave a group of readings.

Group singing of patriotic songs was enjoyed by those present, with Mrs. Gray at the piano. Mrs. Clara Wedgewood was received into membership.

The social hour was a most enjoyable one, and during this time tables were spread with pretty linens and centered with bouquets of bright-hued gladioli from the home gardens. Tiny silk flags served as favors. Refreshments of strawberries and cream, home-made cake and coffee were served.

Members present were Mesdames Rosa Diers, Cassie Ferguson, Ella Wilson, Emma Leiser, Anna Penfleton, Julietta Smith, Hannah Huntington, Dora Spangler, Veronice Hogle, Viola Phipps, Abbie Vandermast, Margaret Culver, Fannie Cunningham, Mary Ramsdell, Emma Mosbaugh, Anne Arnold, and the hostess, Mrs. Yount. She was assisted by her daughters, Mrs. Augusta Merrill and Miss Elizabeth Yount.

Guests present were Mrs. Estelle Gray, Mrs. Ida Millan, Mrs. Sarah Brown, and Mrs. Elizabeth Birkhead. The next meeting will be held August 5 with Mrs. Annie Arnold, 406 South Birch street.

Cousins Share Honors At Pretty Birthday Celebration

A double birthday celebration was a delightful affair shared Thursday by Constance Halsell and her cousin, Phyllis Howland, when they were complimented in the former's home, 2019 Polinestria street. Their mothers, Mrs. Charles Halsell and Mrs. C. W. Howland, planned the merry party in observance of Constance's eighth birthday and Phyllis' sixth.

Many interesting games were enjoyed on the grassy lawn, under the supervision of the co-hostesses, who were assisted by their cousin, Miss Lillian Confer.

A patriotic motif was evident throughout the afternoon, and also at the long table on the lawn, where ice cream was served with two large angelfood birthday cakes, decorated with red, white and blue. They were topped with white candles, eight on one cake and six on the other. Nut cups and napkins were in the chosen colors. Favors were gum drop bears carrying tiny flags.

Many pretty gifts were presented to Constance and Phyllis by their little friends present, who included Jordis and Levon Gold, Helen Holzgrafe, Wanda and Joyce Hubbard, Helen and Eileen Pickel, Wanda and Sylvia Gregg, Francis and Lillian Flood, Betty Louise Vernon, Dexter Davis, Marion Pickel, Marjory and Jean Randall, and Marjory Lewis. Others present were Mrs. Les Davis, Mrs. Ida Confer, Miss Lillian Confer and the two hostesses, Mrs. Halsell and Mrs. Howland.

Quiet Ceremony Unites Los Angeles Couple In Church Chapel

A quiet wedding at high noon, Saturday, July 4, served to unite in marriage two young people of Los Angeles, Miss Martha McGregor and J. S. Talcott Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Talcott, 615 Spurgeon street. The chapel of the First Methodist church was the setting for the ceremony, at which the pastor of the church, Dr. George Warner, officiated.

The bride chose a smart costume in light blue for the ceremony, and with this she wore accessories in shell pink. Mr. and Mrs. Talcott and Mrs. Warner were the only guests present.

The new Mr. and Mrs. Talcott left immediately for a two weeks' vacation in Yosemite. On their return, they will make their home in Los Angeles where Mr. Talcott is an employee of the Los Angeles water department. Surprise Party Given To Honor Wedding Anniversary

The twenty-fifth wedding anniversary of the Rev. Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Hicks, 1222 South Broadway, occurring Thursday, July 2, was incentive for an enjoyable garden party planned by their son, Gaylord Hicks, with the cooperation of Mr. and Mrs. Basil T. Underwood, 1702 South Van Ness avenue.

In carrying out the plan, an urgent telephone call to the Rev. Mr. Hicks succeeded in bringing both him and Mrs. Hicks to the Underwood home. But instead of finding need for clerical services as they had supposed, they discovered that they were there as honor guests at a party which was delightfully staged in the pretty flower garden. There were nearly 70 members and friends present from the Christian and Missionary Alliance church, of which Mr. Hicks is pastor.

A merry mock wedding was staged, with the honor guests as bride and bridegroom. John Gilchrist, Sunday school superintendent of the church, performed the double ring ceremony. Little Miss Marjorie Buck carried the rings in on a pillow as Lohengrin's Wedding March was played by the Mustel trio.

Following congratulations, the Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Hicks were presented with a purse of silver and several pieces of silverware. Punch and wafers served by the hostess concluded the happy evening.

COFFEE WITH IDEAL FLAVOR PRODUCED BY IMPROVED ROASTING

Patented Process Insures Perfect Roast for Every Pound of Hills Bros. Coffee

Roasting, as much as blend, is responsible for the fine flavor of coffee. In fact, ordinary bulk-roasting methods often fail to give the blend "a break." That's because bulk methods don't always insure an even roast. Hills Bros. invented and patented a process that overcomes this undesirable feature. It is called Controlled Roasting, for control is the principle of the process.

As the accuracy of the hour-glass depends upon an even, continuous flow ... a little at a time ... so a perfect roast is procured for Hills Bros. Coffee by this patented process that roasts evenly, continuously ... a little at a time. The speed of the coffee through the roasters is controlled. The temperature is controlled. These two things insure unvarying flavor—for the blend

Be a Good Listener and Learn

I have never met a successful cook who did not like to talk about his craft, and I have always given him plenty of encouragement to do so. By asking questions and being a good listener, I knew that eventually I would learn worth-while things. This theory ran true to form one day this week.

I was driving in the country and stopped at a roadside restaurant to get a bite of lunch. Among other things I had was a luscious piece of cherry pie. The crust was unusually fine, flaky as puff pastry, and very tender. So, oh, after telling the old man what a grand cook he was, I asked him what he put into his crust that made it so different from the usual run of restaurant pies. He gave me these ingredients, and directions for mixing—which you will see are extremely important.

5 pounds of good pastry flour (25 3-ounce cups)

4 pounds finest leaf lard

4 rounded teaspoons salt

Ice water (see directions)

Using the fingers or pastry mixer to mix flour, sifted before measuring or weighing, and lard to a coarse meal. Add ice water and mix carefully until the texture is like that of very well kneaded bread or ice-box cookie dough. Do NOT use the usual rule of a very small amount of water. Add enough water to mix to a very firm dough, do NOT knead, but cut off the right size for crust, pat quickly into shape and roll out.

While these amounts may seem large to you, you will find that you save time and work by mixing large amounts of lard and flour, keeping well chilled in a covered jar in the refrigerator, to use as you need pies. Half of this amount will make at least 10 large pies.

TODAY'S RECIPE

Roth's Grutes

- 1 pint cranberry juice
- 1 pint cold water
- 1 cup powdered sugar
- 4 tablespoons uncooked rice
- 2-3 cup blanched almonds sliced in thin slivers

Cranberry juice is a little out of line right now, so you might substitute any tart berry juice, or the juice of currants, or blue grapes. The one requisite is that the juice must be strained and clear, just as it is for jelly.

Wash the rice and add to the fruit juice, water and sugar. Bring slowly to the boil, put over hot water to steam for 30 minutes.

The sliced blanched almonds can be added when the rice is half cooked.

Pour the pudding into small moulds rinsed in cold water and set away to chill for a few hours. Serve with sugar and thin cream.

This delicious dessert may be frozen in a mechanical refrigerator, and add another feather to your cap. Serve it in small amounts of sherbet glasses, and top each glass with whipped cream slightly sweetened and flavored with almond.

Eight people can be served with the amounts in this delectable dessert. Without the whipped cream trimmings each portion has 150 energy calories. Add another hundred calories for sugar and cream.

I have a story to tell you about the grand French Mustard recipe I am offering in the current leaflet, but for lack of space it must go over until tomorrow. In the meantime, you might send me a stamped, self-addressed envelope for the free copy I'm keeping for you.

Tomorrow the recipe will be "The Omelette That Never Falls." Whether it lives up to its reputation remains to be seen. I am using it for the unconscious humor expressed in the directions.

Silver Wedding Day Is Happily Celebrated On the Fourth

In celebration of the patriotic date of their wedding just twenty-five years ago, Mr. and Mrs. Allen J. Parris of 611 East Fourth street, devoted Saturday, July 4, to entertaining the many friends who called at their home to express congratulations upon the silver wedding.

The afternoon was a happy one devoted to program of games in which various old-fashioned contests varied the card games. Some of the guests preferred dancing to the radio. An especially enjoyable feature was provided by the taking of pictures of the group, and Mrs. Parris donned the costume she wore 25 years ago as a bride.

Gay holiday colors of red, white and blue decked the home, and there were quantities of lovely flowers, many baskets of bright-colored blossoms having been sent by friends. Early in the evening a buffet supper was served, after which an elaborate display of fireworks brought the happy celebration to a close.

Mr. and Mrs. Parris were presented with many pieces of silver including an especially handsome tea set with a plate glass tray. Their guests included in addition to the Misses Jane and Marie Parris, and George Parris, Mrs. Hilda and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Andrew and children, Santa Ana; Roy Madden of Davenport, Iowa; Verne Mills of Park City, Utah; Mr. and Mrs. L. P. McConnell of La Crescenta; Mr. and Mrs. P. C. Boyer, Peter Peterson and Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Brandstedter, Los Angeles; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Keever, the Misses Maude and Mary Lee Keever and Russell Keever, North Hollywood.

"THE LASH" SHOWS AT WALKER STATE

Dick Barthelmess has endeared himself to the moving picture world by characters as varied as they were vivid. Strength they have always had—glamor, too, and wistfulness, and the crooked smile that is characteristic of the star—but in "The Lash" he combines the qualities seen in former vehicles and augments them by something new and altogether captivating.

The picture is now showing at Walker's State theater. He plays the part of a dashing Spanish vaquero, Don Francisco Delino, avenger of his people's wrongs, in the dangerous days following the Mexican ceding of California to the United States, when the country was infested with desperadoes from all corners of the world. Don Francisco is a sort of Robin Hood, for he hands his people together for the purpose of robbing the oppressors to help the oppressed.

Fireless Fourth Is Observed In National Forest

ORANGE, July 5.—A fireless Fourth in the Cleveland national forest is believed to have resulted to the repeated warnings of state and federal officials, according to a statement made by J. A. Sherman, state forest ranger, stationed at Orange this morning.

Sherman declared that while 900 cars were stopped at the foot of the main highway into the Santiago canyon, east of Irvine park, but few of them had fireworks with them and all were warned not to explode fireworks in the park or to build fires outside of designated camp grounds. The warnings were given by wardens sent by Sherman and state officers supplied by Captain Henry Meehan of the state highway patrol.

Sherman believes that not so many people as is usual frequented the forests and that more sought the beaches owing to the extreme warmth of the day and he is of the opinion that more spent the holiday in the Santiago canyon than in other canyons in this vicinity.

Cars were checked from 5 a. m. July 4, to 5 p. m. yesterday. One youth was stopped in the act of shooting firecrackers.

IN BEST PORTRAYAL

Loretta Young, who plays her best role in the sophisticated comedy, "Big Business Girl" now showing at the Fox West Coast theater.

MONTGOMERY AT BROADWAY IN NEW FILM

"The Man in Possession," latest starring vehicle of Robert Montgomery, screenland's latest star, is now being shown down at the Fox Broadway theater.

The picture, sophisticated and smart, shows Montgomery as the son of an English nobleman, who attempts to bribe his son to leave home, because the son had been in prison. Instead, the boy goes to London where he gets a position in the sheriff's office.

Later he is sent to attach a woman's belongings and learns that she is the girl his brother is supposed to marry for her money. The girl also believes that she is marrying for money and Montgomery finds himself in what he thinks is a "delightful" situation.

He uses his knowledge to full benefit for himself and at the same time wins the girl.

In "The Man in Possession," Montgomery has a little more reserve, a little more experience and all in all gives an unusual performance. The picture is strictly a comedy.

"BUSINESS GIRL" AT FOX WEST COAST

Loretta Young, youngest and loveliest of screen stars, does the best work of her career in "Big Business Girl," the First National production which opened an engagement at the Fox West Coast theater last night. The title role calls for rare skill in characterization. Mac, a college girl, is undecided whether to marry the young college orchestra leader, Johnnie Saunders, or to go to the Big Town and start a secretarial career which may in time land her in the world of big business. She finally decides on the latter.

Saunders—splendidly portrayed by Frank Albertson—goes overseas for the summer with his jazz boys and Mac hies to the city, where, after discouraging weeks, she gets a job with an advertising agency, the big boss hiring her for personal reasons. Ricardo Cortez plays the amorous head of the agency with his usual finish. Though Mac gets Saunders promotion in the musical world by using her powerful acquaintances, and although she and Saunders have been secretly married, they quarrel and part.

A caty patroness of Saunders is played with uncton by Dorothy Christy. Divorce proceedings, which are manipulated by the boss, are doubtfully aided by a blonde co-respondent, played with roughneck verve by Joan Blondell, and Oscar Apfel is aptly cast as an aged and wealthy follower of Mac. Those favorites of the screen, Mickey Bennett and Bobby Gordon, have amusing parts as office devils, and Virginia is a snitty office assistant.

HIT-AND-RUN HORSE
PITTSBURGH, July 5.—There are quite a few hit-and-run automobile drivers in this city, but the first case of a hit-and-run horseman was reported by Dr. H. B. Krumpke. Krumpke was driving his new car up the street when he approached four horsemen. One of the horses leaped the hood of the car, badly damaging it. Before Krumpke could get out of his car the horse and rider beat a hasty retreat.

IS LOVE stronger than THE LAW?

A beautiful woman and The Law—reached for the same man at the same time—and out of this came a clash of human emotions—strange, fierce, amazing!

FAR into the mountains—in a desolate cabin—lived Mary Willets—alone. Young and beautiful—she yearned for human companionship. But Fate—it seemed—had stranded, forsaken her—until that day—Bob White was delivered into her loving care.

It was a pitiful sight—that morning she found him—near her cabin—his legs crushed under a rock—hurled down by a landslide.

Terrified lest death should claim him—frantically, Mary pulled—tugged his mammoth, half-conscious body to her cabin—set his splintered legs—dressed his wounds—nursed him night and day.

How she worshiped that bravery—that defiance to pain—even death—she saw in his noble eyes. Here was a man—a man worth loving. And day by day—she could see that he, too—was growing to love her.

Glad, excited, insanely happy—the weeks flew by—Bob's legs almost healed—and the day of reckoning came. "Mary," he said. "I love you—I got to talk. That morning—the rock—I was hiding money"—he choked. "You see—I'm—well—you don't want a train robber—for a husband!"

"Oh, Bob!" she cried—threw herself on his chest. "You're mine—forever. God sent you to me—or else—He'd have taken you—out there." "Don't, honey," he pleaded. "Remember The Law. It's out to get me—even if I've quit the game—for good."

"The Law," she hurled back. "I saved you—from Death—Death that defies all Law of man. You're mine—mine! I'll fight—The Law—nothing can take you—ever—EVER!" she screamed—WHEN—at the door—there came—a crash—another man—on his chest—the gleam of a sheriff's star! :

Here, in this terrific climax of clashing human emotions, what could Mary do to save Bob White from The Law—from that relentless, menacing Arm which would drag him away to prison—crush her heart—and wreck forever her only hope for love and happiness?

You must read for yourself this amazing true-life story HIS OWN LAW—of how a beautiful woman fought with all the madness of a tigress—used all the subtle wiles a woman knows—to hold her man whom she had claimed from the very jaws of Death and defied the mightiest Law of the land to take. ## "HOLY SPIRIT" SERMON TOPIC AT EL MODENA

EL MODENA, July 6.—The evening service at the Friends church was in charge of the pastor, the Rev. Joseph G. Reese, who read as a lesson the 18th chapter of John, beginning with the first verse. His subject was "The Holy Spirit." He said in part:

"I can remember when if any references were made to the holy spirit, I always referred to the holy spirit as 'It.' But he is co-equal with God, the father, and with Christ, the son. We find in this lesson the thought that Jesus said it was expedient that he should go away, in order that 'ye should not be offended.' That the holy spirit might prepare or fit them for the problems with which they would have to deal. 'The time cometh that whosoever killeth you will think that he doeth God service.' How true these second and third verses have been.

"Paul, whose name had been Saul, was going about killing men because he did not know the father. He was doing it in the name of God, and of the church, and he did not know the founder of the church. It is expedient for you that I go away. He is preparing them for the time when he will go away. He tells them 'the comforter will come unto you.'"

"When Lazarus was sick, Martha and Mary sent for Jesus, and Peter, James and John were with the master, working among the people; when they sent for him, he came, but Lazarus had been dead for a while. While he was with the disciples, he could not be with Martha and Mary and Lazarus, and, while he was with Martha and Mary and Lazarus, he could not be with the disciples. When Jesus went away, he sent the comforter; that they might have the glorious privilege of having the comforter with them, and so we find John saying, 'When he is come, he will reprove the world of sin, and of righteousness, and of judgment. He will convince the world of sin, because they believed not on me.'"

Powered with a 240-horsepower gasoline engine, the mast is 76 feet high, weighs 200 tons and attains full speed in locomotion at two miles per hour. Although originally designed by British engineers, the "iron horse" was made mobile by U. S. Navy experts.

DISCIPLES OF CHRIST. ORANGE SERMON TOPIC

ORANGE, July 6.—"Disciples of Christ and the Cross" was the subject of the sermon Sunday morning by the Rev. Franklin H. Minck at the Christian church. Music was furnished by the choir in an anthem and Mrs. Leon Des Larzes sang a solo.

The Rev. Mr. Minck said in part: "Jesus had been talking to his disciples, but now he called the multitude to him, saying, 'If any man come after me, let him take up his cross and follow me.' The church has reached the cross of Christ. Anyone who would follow Christ must deny himself and take up his cross. The disciples of Christ are the disciples of the cross. There are difficulties to be overcome. Our nation has a cross to bear. How are we carrying those crosses?"

"When the colonies broke away from England, they still had crosses to bear, but they were voluntary crosses, there were still difficulties to be solved. 'Righteousness exalteth a nation.' Right living and a desire to shut out sin. 'In God we trust' is moulded on our money. Many shadows have been cast on our democracy, but righteousness is in the heart of our people. 'Righteousness exalts a nation, sin is a reproach.' We have a declaration of determination and an obligation as a nation. Our first declaration of determination is an increased respect for the laws of our nation and second is the enforcement of the 18th amendment.

"The allied forces among the young people, led by Dr. Poling of the Christian Endeavor movement, where the youth of the land are allied together with the allied campaigners and the allied businessmen with the principle of respect for law and a fair distribution of income as their foundation principles will accomplish much.

"With the 120 million people in our nation more should be paying income taxes, there should be a fair distribution of income. Our boundary line is the world. We should have a part in the world program. We should determine to make the pact of peace effective. We should show justice to the foreigner and the poor in our midst and educate for a development of character in the every day life of our nation. The task is difficult, but we should be ready and willing to take up our cross. We must be personal cross bearers; we must deny ourselves to contribute to the cause of Christ. We need armies of men and women wholly consecrated, down on their knees. The New Testament church did not have the apostles to tell them what to do, they found the opportunity to serve Christ. We need to consecrate ourselves to that purpose."

2. Bank of America owns no real estate, either country or city, except its own banking premises throughout the state of California. All other real estate coming into the possession of this Bank is sold immediately to the Capital Company or California Lands, Inc.—separate corporations specializing in city and country property, and independent of Bank of America in management and finances.
3. This Bank has a total of $606,728,768.24 in current loans made to assist in the financing of commercial business, foreign trade, the building of homes, the moving of crops, and other private and public activities throughout California.
4. Every real estate loan being made by this Bank is a first mortgage loan and conforms to the requirements of the National Bank Act; and none is made in excess of 50% of a conservative appraisal value.
5. 80% of our real estate loans are secured by first mortgages on city business and residential property; 20% on improved agricultural lands.
6. This Bank owns $155,822,673.74 of United States Government bonds.

Late News From Orange County Communities

RELATIONS OF MEN. NATIONS SERMON TOPIC

FULLERTON, July 6.—"Right Relations" provided the subject for the Independence Day sermon by Rev. George F. Tinsley of the First Christian church of Fullerton yesterday morning. The Rev. Mr. Tinsley said in part:

"Nearly all of you have been in a court room, and know that the lawyers have the privilege of cross-examining the witnesses. There is nothing wrong in this as long as the truth is sought. But sometimes a lawyer will seek to confuse a witness and cause them to give testimony that is damaging. The occasion of our text this evening came upon one of those experiences of our Lord, when the enemies of Jesus sought by crafty questions to damage the witness of Jesus. The Pharisees and Herodians must have glared over the question they framed to entrap Jesus. They must have chuckled to themselves, that no matter how he answered, they would come off the victors. Here is the question: 'Is it lawful to pay tribute to Caesar, or not?'"

Would Be Forsaken

"If he said yes, they reasoned, then he would be hated and forsaken by the people, for they not only despised the Roman yoke but the image of Caesar on the coin would lay Jesus open to breach the second of their sacred commandments, which reads 'thou shalt not bow down to any graven image.' But suppose he said no. Then Herodians, that is the Roman officials, the office holders, would have him arrested and condemned as a dangerous citizen. How was Jesus to get around this question. He might pursue one of three courses. First, he might keep silent. So many do when they should speak. But Jesus did not keep silent. He might have looked around and determined which were in the majority, which was the more popular side and answered accordingly. But Jesus was not looking for popularity. He pursued the third possible course. He asked for a coin, asked whose image and superscription was on it. They answered, Caesar's. He answered, 'render unto Caesar the things that are Caesar's and unto God the things that belong to God' and in so doing has given to his disciples for all time some very valuable teaching concerning our relationships, our responsibilities and our obligations."

"First let us apply this teaching principle to OUR NATURE as men. The nature of man to which tribute must be paid is physical, mental, social and spiritual. We are not to neglect, Jesus says, to pay the tribute to the physical that is due the physical. The body demands food, shelter, clothing, neglect this tribute payment and we suffer dire consequences. Neglect to pay the tribute of rest, recreation, change and the bodily tissues break down. Neglect the tribute of observing the health laws and disease takes its toll.

"But the nature of man demands tribute for the mental. The intelligence of man is that distinguishing quality of man. It is an endowment of quality given to man. Fail to pay tribute to the mental and ignorance, superstition and magic rule. Man's nature is not given to isolation but rather to the company of other human beings, hence we must pay tribute to the social instinct of man as represented in friendships, the family and the public gathering. But we are to pay tribute to the religious nature of men. Religion is not a prescribed act of worship, a correct faith, the holding of proper doctrines but rather an inner attitude nourished in love toward God and man. Neglect this tribute payment and we revert to the animal.

"In the second place let us apply this to the government of men. Many people here find conflict, Caesar, of course at one time was

FIVE-DAY CELEBRATION AT HUNTINGTON BEACH CLOSES WITH JULY FOURTH PROGRAM

HUNTINGTON BEACH, July 6.—Huntington Beach staged by far the most pretentious Fourth of July celebration ever held here. For five days the program continued. The crowd reached its peak on July 4 when it was estimated 50,000 people were in the city and along the beach. Traffic was stretched for 50 miles along the coast highway as close as cars could travel one behind the other, forming a double line moving in both directions over the paved road.

Every possible variety of entertainment was offered at Huntington Beach. An airfield built for the occasion put on an air meet. Fanchon and Marco vaudeville acts, some of them leads for the most particular vaudeville circuits, were offered on a little stage on the street corner. Daredevil stunts by carnival celebrities, swimming races, a horse show with some of the finest horses in the nation entered, with men and women riders performing feats of horsemanship, drew its full share of applause and interest from the holiday crowd.

Special Golf Tournaments

Out at the Municipal golf links on the quiet greens, was relief from the crowd and the noise and excitement, for those who preferred this sport for the Fourth of July recreation. Special tournaments and matches offered thrills for the golfers.

A public wedding with some of the most prominent families in the city presented in the wedding party, was held on the street stage with several hundred people looking on. Miss Isabel Siracusa, queen of the carnival by popular vote, supported by her eight beautiful maids, gave the sanction of royalty to the street wedding, offering her counsel and her good wishes to the happy bride and groom.

Miss Margaret Williams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Williams of Huntington Beach, was the bride. The groom was William O. McCracken, an orange grower of Placentia. The bridesmaid was Sarah Turner. Miss Roberta Williams, sister of the bride was maid of honor. The groomsmen were Russell Deane, groom's attendant were Carlton Conrad, Arthur Watts, Maurice Oumlee, Don Frampton of Huntington Beach and Robert Townsend, Lawrence Page and Raymond Page of Yorba Linda. Little "Peaches" Arthur was trainbearer for the bride and flower bearers were Jean Whitaker and Lois Musolf. Donald Charter was ring bearer. Rev. Luther Arthur, pastor of the First Baptist church conducted the wedding ceremony. Miss Edna Warner played the wedding march. Mrs. Ray Schurman sang two numbers accompanied by Mrs. Margaret Colvin at the piano.

an individual, but passed into an institution, that we call the human government of men. Some one has said 'every nation has that government that it deserves.' A selfish, self-indulgent, despotic government whether local, national or international should fall, but it will become such only as the people will it. Whatever our human government, we have a tribute to pay, in obedience to its laws, payment of taxes, exercising our political duties, and praying for it. Fail to render this tribute to our government and it deserves to fall.

"The image of Caesar was upon the coin, which was to be used to pay tribute to Caesar. The image of God is reflected in man. The qualities of man are to be used to pay tribute to God. Tribute of constant communion, unwavering trust, obedience, sacrifice. Fail to render unto God the things that belong to God, and we loose the image. A coin may be marred but it may be turned into the treasury and a new one received. So with a life committed to God, we are given a new.

UNITED CHURCH SERVICES FOR ANAHEIM OPEN

ANAHEIM, July 6.—Speaking to a congregation, estimated at more than 1500 persons, the Rev. Ralph W. Lee, pastor of the White Temple Methodist church, last night officially opened the annual series of union church services held during the summer in the Greek open air theater in the city park. Arrangements for the union services were made by a committee headed by Conrad Jongeward.

The Rev. Lee took as the theme of his sermon the words of Jesus, "Whereunto shall I liken this generation—but like little children calling unto their fellows and saying 'we have piped unto you and we have not danced, we have mourned unto you and we have not lamented.'"

Reviews World Conditions

He reviewed conditions in the world at the present time in his sermon, calling attention to the moratorium recently made by President Hoover in trying to postpone for a year the war debts that other nations owe the United States and the debts owed among foreign nations. He denounced the attitude of this country in regard to the attitude taken by Europe, declaring that the United States was unjust to its debtors in that it was not able to understand the position of foreign powers.

He declared that the only solution to the problem was for the United States to attempt to reach a better understanding of the situation and that no nation could live wholly to itself. This country should lead in a movement to promote a better understanding in the sisterhood of nations, he said, and took a shot at American churches, declaring that they have been exceedingly lax in coming together in an effort to solve common problems. Each church is concerned only with its little thoughts and its little problems, he asserted, and gives little thought to the welfare of the world as a whole.

He pointed out that Christianity is a socializing agent and that this great social message finds its true outlet through the churches, its rightful agent. Because there are so many denominations of the protestant religion in the United States,

ORANGE JUICE PLANT STARTS FULL SCHEDULE

ANAHEIM, July 6.—Following the announcement made nearly a month ago by officials of the Golden State Citrus Products company when they took out a building permit here to erect a $250,000 citrus products plant at 408 South Atchinson street that the plant would be ready for operation in the near future, announcement was made recently that it would swing into full production within a week's time.

The first units of the plant are nearing completion and part time operation was begun last week, according to J. D. Numan and C. R. Colupy, proprietors of the plant.

A total of 75 persons will be employed in the plant with an estimated weekly payroll of about $1900. During the time of the construction work a weekly payroll of $1800 has been paid out by the company to local labor and contractors.

All units in the plant will be thoroughly tested within the next few days and when the tests are complete the plant will have a daily output of 15,000 gallons of orange juice a day, according to officials.

Water System Is Delayed By Errors

WESTMINSTER, July 2.—After over one year of concentrated effort to get a municipal water system for Westminster, two bond elections being held in that time, the district for the third time is doomed for delay in beginning real operations. Errors have made another advertisement of the bids necessary.

A year ago following the bond election, errors in papers made another election necessary. This was successfully accomplished for the second time after signers had again made out the necessary petition. The matter had reached the point of opening bids, when the second error was discovered which had not made the bonds for the right amount. This corrected, on Tuesday a number of bidders were present at the meeting, when it was found impossible to proceed as the bonds were again not divided into amounts as called for by law.

The water bonds are for $31,000 and will finance a new complete water system and pipe lines.

CAR IS STOLEN

A car belonging to Harold Frederick, 333 North Clementine street, Anaheim, was stolen while parked in front of his home last night, according to a report filed at the police station in Anaheim today.

CHINESE HERBS

THE ROAD TO HEALTH

CHINESE HERBS have stood the test for centuries. They cured more ailments of men and women than all modern treatments. ALL ailments, no matter of what nature, no matter how many different medicines you have tried without results, we will relieve you quickly and permanently with our wonderful herbal remedies — remedies that will assist nature in removing the poisons from your system and gradually rebuild the wasted tissue.

The action of Chinese herbs is entirely different from anything you have taken before, and entirely unfamiliar to most American people. They quietly and healthily creep through the meshes of your tissues, while you are working and while you are sleeping. Like friendly spirits they steal into the dark corners of human anatomy to expel the poisons of disease, and like good fairies, they always leave happiness in their wake.

BUENA PARK WOMEN GIVE CARD PARTY

BUENA PARK, July 6.—The first of a series of card parties sponsored by the Buena Park Women's club to raise funds for the contemplated new clubhouse was given in the home of Mrs. L. T. Wilsey on South Grand avenue, Thursday afternoon and was very successful.

Eight tables of bridge and three of five hundred were in play, with prizes for high scores in bridge awarded to Miss Parsons of St. Louis, Mo., first, and Mrs. E. W. Thurman of Buena Park, second. Prizes in five hundred were won by Mrs. J. R. Miller of La Mirada, first, and Mrs. L. H. Tanquary of Buena Park, second. Door prize was won by Mrs. J. R. Miller and special prize by Mrs. W. B. Shaw.

The score cards were made by Mrs. Arvil Huston, chairman of the committee in charge of the affair who designed hand painted miniatures of one of the sets of plans favored by the building committee for the new clubhouse. Favors consisting of nut cups made of crepe paper in the pastel shades were designed by Mrs. L. H. Tanquary, who also made the rose pastel paper holders for the bowls of pom-pom dahlias used as centerpieces on the card tables for the luncheon which was served following the games.

Mrs. L. T. Wilsey and Mrs. J. P. Greenawald served with Mrs. Huston on the committee and Mrs. C. B. Snyder, Mrs. Mary Boden and Mrs. H. E. Warren assisted the hostesses.

The carabao was real tame and Clowdy said, "It's a shame that we pile on him all at once. I'll bet we are a load. I think that it will be more fun if we each take turns, one by one. I'd hate to have to carry four fat youngsters down the road."

"Oh, he's a beast of burden, lad," replied the owner. "He'll be glad to take you all. He's used to that so just hang on real tight. He'll likely walk along real slow and you will jingle as you go, but if you don't start fooling round the ride will be all right."

So Coppy cried, "Giddap! Giddap!" and gave the beast a friendly slap. It raised its head and started out. "We're off!" one Tinv cried. The Travel Man said, "I'll wait here. Don't be afraid. There's naught to fear. The owner of the animal is walking by your side."

The ride was really very nice. They traveled o'er the same path twice and then decided they had had enough; so off they dropped. The Travel Man then paid the lad with several coins, which made him glad. He said, "Oh, thank you, sir," and then upon the beast he hopped.

"I'm going to gather wood," said he. "Across that little stream you see some little piles of kindling wood. This animal will take me there. 'Course he'll get wet, but he won't care. Just watch him now. He'll swim the stream and stop when I say what!"

The stream was shallow as could be. The animal splashed merrily and shortly reached the other side. The wood was piled up high upon the beast's back. Then, once more, it slowly crossed from shore to shore. "He's done real well," cried Scouty. "You should feed him by and by."

Missing Letter Links

RULES

1. In playing golf on the Missing Letter Links the object is to change one word to another in a given number of strokes which is par. For example, to go from TEE to PIN in three strokes sounds hard but isn't. TEE-TIE-PIE-PIN. It's probably more difficult on a real course.

2. Change but one letter at a time and be sure the word you have used is one in good usage.

3. The order of the letters cannot be changed.

Why Women Keep Cooler Than Men

By JANE STAFFORD

KEEPING cool is a science which you can practice yourself. The first step is to cut down your heat production.

Your body is like a machine that is running all the time, and as it runs it produces a certain amount of heat. This heat comes from the transformations in matter that are constantly going on in the human body.

"Such changes in matter are always accompanied by changes in energy or heat changes," explains Dr. Francis G. Benedict, director of the Boston, Mass., Nutrition Laboratory of the Carnegie Institute of Washington. Dr. Benedict has spent many years studying these changes in thousands of men, women and children under different conditions, and has reached interesting conclusions.

"The body is constantly changing," he says. "We cannot have life without these changes. Even if one is lying quietly asleep, still these changes are continually going on, vital changes, and it is important for us to realize that life itself is the cause of these changes."

So you cannot stop the heat production of your body entirely in your efforts to keep cool. Some of this heat is required to keep the body-machine running. Furthermore, as long as the body-machine runs, even if it is throttled down to idling speed, it will continue to produce some heat.

However, you can keep the heat production down by diet and rest.

Food is the chief fuel that keeps the body's fires going and makes life possible.

WHEN a man gets up from the dinner table after a good meal and lies down for a siesta, his heat production is at its highest, so far as the internal changes are concerned, for the effect of the digestive processes is added to his basic or resting needs for life," Dr. Benedict explains. "If he goes for a walk, plays golf or bowls, his heat production or metabolism is much greater."

"Digestion is a very important process. The heat production may be increased 40 per cent after a heavy meal, and the increase may last from 10 to 12 hours, gradually lessening in intensity toward the end of this time as digestion is finished."

Some foods produce more heat when they are burned than others, just as coal makes a hotter fire than wood. The heat produced by food when it is burned in your body is measured by the calorie.

This familiar term is not a measure of temperature, but of energy or of heat. When one quart of water is heated so that its temperature is raised three degrees Fahrenheit, it will absorb about one calorie of heat. In the process of heating anything, heat is absorbed, whereas in combustion, heat is given off.

Two tablespoonsful of sugar, for instance, produce 100 units of heat, or calories, when they are burned in your body. Dietitians and nutritionists sometimes classify foods as high calorie or low calorie foods.

The high calorie foods are those which are digested with great heat production. They are the foods you want to eat sparingly in hot weather. The low calorie foods are digested with very little heat production, so you can fill up on them during the dog days.

AMONG the high calorie foods are meats, nuts, fats, sugars and starches. Vegetables and fruits are low calorie foods. Ice cream, one of the favorite hot weather foods of America, is not so cooling as it feels while you are eating it. It is made chiefly of sugar and cream, both of which belong to the high calorie list of foods. Water ices are better hot weather eating, because, being made without cream, their caloric content is not so high.

Another factor which increases your heat production is the physical exertion you make, scientists have found. When you are resting in bed before breakfast, your heat production is at its lowest level. You are only producing one calorie a minute. If you sit up, the heat production increases somewhat, though not very much.

Moderately rapid walking, however, increases it about 200 times, while violent exercise makes your body fires burn extremely fast with consequent enormous heat production. A football player playing very hard produces about 600 calories in one hour, Dr. Benedict found. The same amount of muscular exertion in the line of work produces a similar increase in heat production.

Certain factors affecting your heat production are beyond your control, however. If you are a man, for instance, you cannot help having a higher heat production than women, taking into account weight, height and age, which are other factors affecting this matter of body changes and accompanying production of heat and energy.

"Women of the same height, age and weight as men

Physical exertion makes the body hotter . . . and here is a device measuring the heat of a man on a treadmill.

How warm does a man get when he sows wood? . . . This test gets the exact answer. . . . Note the oxygen tank on the worker's back, arranged so that his oxygen consumption can be measured accurately.

would produce approximately 10 per cent less heat," Dr. Benedict says. "Of course, the average woman is both shorter and lighter in weight than the average man, but these factors of weight, height and age can be equalized in a statistical analysis and the effect of sex clearly shown in an unmistakable manner."

This is one reason why men feel hotter in summer but stand the cold better in winter than women do.

Metabolism is the technical name which scientists give to the process of changes or transformations of matter in the body. The rate at which these changes go on is called the metabolic rate. The rate varies between different persons and is influenced by sex, age, weight, height, food and rest or physical exertion.

Scientists of Carnegie Institution have measured the human body's heat-making machine and found that sex, height and weight, all have a direct influence on your abilities to keep cool in hot weather, or to keep warm in cold weather

Measuring a co-ed's basal metabolism rate. . . . An experiment at Simmons College, Boston. . . . On the cot, inhaling oxygen, is Miss Josephine Bolt. . . . The others are Elizabeth Kerr (left) and Norma Bianchi.

PERHAPS one of the most extraordinary and most interesting of the internal factors affecting basal heat production, is that of age," Dr. Benedict pointed out in his report.

"The heat production is lowered by age. A man, for example, at 25 years of age, in full prime of physical vigor, produces more heat than a man of the same height and weight but 70 years of age. The fires of life are burning at a somewhat lower ebb in old age."

"The influence of age is particularly striking in adolescence. Indeed, the influence of age may actually counteract the rather considerable increase in heat production due to weight and height."

"Thus when we were studying groups of Girl Scouts who ranged from 12 years to 18 years of age, we found that as a result of their growing older they increased in weight and increased in height, both of which factors would normally tend to raise the metabolism."

"But as they were growing older, the age factor lowered the metabolism, and we found, singularly enough, that with all our Girl Scouts (and we measured some 150) the total basal heat production expressed in terms of 24 hours was about 1250 calories, whether a girl was 12 years old or whether she was 18 years old."

When you have cut your heat production down to a minimum by eating carefully of low calorie foods and resting as much as possible, your next step in keeping cool is to provide for the most efficient way of losing what little heat you cannot help producing.

You want to wear loose, porous clothing which allows the heat generated by your body to pass into the air away from you.

ANOTHER way of keeping cool is by perspiring. If you sweat a quart of water you have gotten rid of about 500 calories. Water can carry more heat without showing it than anything else in the world. Of course, you must drink plenty of water to replenish the supply in your body.

If you do not perspire much you will be more comfortable in hot weather if you drink hot tea and coffee, rather than the iced variety, as the warm drinks will induce extra perspiration.

If the air already holds all the water it can take up, you cannot get cool by sweating off the heat, which is why a muggy day with high humidity is so uncomfortable. On such a day you must drive the hot, moist layer of air away from your skin, using a fan if there is no breeze available.

If you will add a pinch or two of salt to your drinking water in hot weather you will find that it helps you to endure the heat.

Scientists investigating conditions in hot coal mines and steel plants, where men have to work under extremely high temperatures, found that the workers who succumbed rapidly when working in a temperature of about 100 degrees were able to stand it better when this small amount of salt was added to their drinking water.

At high temperatures, especially when one is working hard, the body gives off large amounts of water in perspiration. This is nature's way of keeping one cool. However, the body also loses much salt with the perspiration—which is what causes a large part of the physical exhaustion you experience when you work hard in the heat.

To overcome this, then, try putting a pinch of salt in your water.

ONE of the keeping-cool rules advocated by science is to avoid the use of alcoholic drinks in hot weather. Alcohol serves as a food as well as a thirst-quencher, scientific experiments have shown. When alcohol is burned in the body it gives rise to heat and energy, like other foods.

Consequently, such an alcoholic drink as beer is by no means as much of a "cooling drink" as its consumers believe. While it is being consumed, of course, it gives a sensation of coolness. Later on, however, this effect wears away, and the beer drinker finds himself actually warmer than before.

An experiment with goldfish, carried out by Prof. W. E. Burge, L. D. Seager and D. J. Verda, of the University of Illinois Physiology Department, proved that alcohol can also perform another function of foods. It increases or stimulates the metabolic process by which the body converts food into heat and energy.

In other words, then, when you take a long, cool drink with an alcoholic base, such as beer or a mint julep, you are really stoking your body's fires, making them burn faster and produce more heat, rather than checking the fires and cutting down the heat production.

The same thing applies, in a different way, to some of the drinks you buy in a drug store soda fountain on a hot day. A chocolate malted milk, for example, may be deliciously cool and refreshing; but it has a considerable quantity of heat-producing food in it, and the metabolic processes of your body are stimulated to new activity as soon as you have consumed it.

In the same manner, a heaped-up ice cream sundae may seem like just the thing to cool you off on a blistering summer day—but it actually will help to increase your sensation of heat instead of diminishing it.

As a matter of fact, pure water is about the best cooling drink of all. And, as was remarked above, if you try adding just a small pinch of salt to it when you have to work under especially high temperatures, you will find that you feel much more comfortable.

PROFOUND CONNIVANCE

Without any serious question, the people of Orange county and of Santa Ana are opposed to gambling devices of all kinds and character. Thousands of dollars are being taken out of the pockets of the people in Orange county, through the medium of slot machines.

The legislative body of the state has given expression to the will of the people in a law, endeavoring to prohibit these very gambling devices. The same thing has happened in the state of California and in Orange county that always happens when the representatives of the people endeavor to protect the people from the exploitation of gamblers and all similar exploiters.

What is this thing which has happened? The gamblers and exploiters have attempted, by a pretense, to carry on the gambling and to violate the spirit, if not the letter of the law, and yet evade the penalty attached to it.

In other words they have arrayed themselves against the legislature and the people of the state, and the only representatives that the people have to protect their interests are the district attorneys and the courts. If there ever was a plain duty before district attorneys in the state of California, it is the duty of ordering the sheriff, for instance in Orange county, to bring these gambling devices, with their mint containers attempting to camouflage their real activity and purpose, and let the jury and the courts decide whether the real intent of the law of California is to prevail, or whether the gamblers are running the county.

It is quite significant that wherever a city attorney or district attorney has determined that it is a violation of the law, the owner of the machines folds them up and steals out of the town or out of the county. He hasn't permitted a test case to be made. Wherever he can get the city attorney or the district attorney to join with him in an opinion, he carries on his nefarious traffic. In other words, it is a simple question of whether the attorney for the municipality, whether city or county, has joined in with the gambling device owner in protecting him by an opinion, or whether he has declared that it is a violation of the law and closed it up.

The owner of the devices has not dared to meet the court in an open, honest-to-goodness test. Why is this? The question answers itself. The truth is that attorneys are like other people—those who cannot see the grounds for illegality in these devices are totally unfit, of course, to prosecute them. We wonder why attorneys do not always, in mooted questions, give the benefit of the doubt, if there is a doubt, to society, whom they are elected to protect, rather than to the exploiter of society, the prohibition of whose activities is the aim of the law.

It is an old and cheap game that prosecuting attorneys practise when they say in respect to a law that they do not want to enforce: "Let somebody bring a complaint and then I will consider it." But with the law that they want to enforce, they instruct the sheriff or the chief of police "to go out and bring them in."

The people of Orange county should keep their minds clear and their determination strong upon this situation. The difficulty many times in fighting such things is that you find you are fighting not so much the man who is engaged in the traffic, as officials who cannot see anything wrong in the traffic.

Instead of the state law prevailing, which prohibits gambling devices, we have ordinances in the city of Santa Ana and in Orange county protecting them. The city of Santa Ana can and should promptly repeal its ordinance licensing these devices. The same is true of Orange county and its board of supervisors.

It should be remembered that all the licensing ordinances in the world cannot make an illegal thing legal, so that if these slot machines are violating the state law the ordinance affords no protection in law. That is simply another camouflage. Every lawyer knows that it is but a camouflage. The truth is that the city of Santa Ana and Orange county can prohibit these slot machines from running by an ordinance forbidding them, regardless of the state law.

Remember there are many places in Orange county where they cannot carry on their traffic, but if they were legal they would be operating there. And if they are illegal, so that they cannot operate in those places, they are illegal in Santa Ana and in those points of Orange county outside of the municipalities.

MONDAY SHOCKS

It is a serious shock every Monday morning to learn of the fatalities in Orange county which have occurred over Saturday and Sunday. Today we are informed that there were eight deaths by drowning and by accidents, with two more people still missing.

We wonder if a campaign could not be inaugurated for people to exercise greater care beginning on Saturday morning particularly, and continuing until Monday morning. Human life is exceedingly precious. Sadness and sorrow prevail in these homes for all the years to come.

The moment one gets into the driver's seat of his automobile on Saturday, he should bear in mind that traffic is great, the hazards are many, and that it is no period to endeavor to make speed.

Enter the water with caution, and urge your friends to exercise caution! So frequently someone loses his life in endeavoring to save the lives of others. Only the other day a mother rushed into the ocean, fully clothed, to save her child who was screaming for help. The child's life was saved, but the mother's lifeless body was recovered some hours later.

Would it not be possible for something to be done to reduce the probability of fatalities over the weekend?

TWO TYPES OF PEOPLE

Eight die in upsetting of a rowboat, four killed in one traffic crash, six killed when airplane hits mountain, 20 drowned in rip tide, that is a limited list of the death toll over the holiday. Yet how mankind despises the people who are cautious. The mothers who are worried are regarded as bothersome individuals.

It is the spirit of daring and chance and fun without concern for those awful things which may happen which is enthroned on a holiday. At such a time none of us like to think of injury and death and loss of the loved ones. Therefore the one who reminds us of such a possibility is regarded as a nuisance, to be left out of merry plans or ignored as far as possible. Today some folks are more tolerant of those they regarded as kill-joys Friday night and Saturday. Under a different light the kill-joy is only sensible when most of the world is foolish. Yet the spirit of joy and merriment are priceless treasures, too.

THE CENSUS ON DIVORCE

The 1930 census shows divorce to be on the increase. One-third more divorces are reported than in 1920.

This indicates an undesirable drift, which it is hoped may be arrested. The home is the basis of orderly society. Nothing so demoralizes the lives of children as a broken home. It is quite conceivable that it is better that some couples separate than continue to live together; but in such separations the welfare of the children should have a large consideration. If the future generations are to be safeguarded, some sort of a home life is desirable. Divorce is the last resort of an unbearable situation, and only a last resort.

Accident Cases to Reach Pocketbooks

The steady increase in the number of accidents involving automobiles in California is an old story; nobody seems to care, for after all only a small percentage of the population is involved.

But everybody is soon to care, their pocketbooks are to be involved.

Insurance companies writing liability and property damage coverage are losing money on this particular line. And that does not mean a few companies, they are all involved. Claims and court judgments paid, plus the cost of doing business, exceed the premiums collected.

And when insurance companies lose money they do something about it. It is evident that there will be an advance in the cost of insurance.

The insurance companies are bitter against the prevailing attitude of juries everywhere. They charge little effort is made by juries to determine who was at fault in the accident. The jury attitude is to agree on the amount they think the plaintiff should have, regardless of what or who was the cause of the accident, according to the insurance spokesmen.

The California division of motor vehicles has completed its figures for April. The increase in the number of accidents reported was 17 per cent, the increase in the number of deaths was 18 per cent and the increase in the number of persons injured was 20 per cent.

Total of 188 persons were killed and 3637 were injured in automobile accidents during the month. That brought the total death list for the first four months of the year up to 754, and this is an increase of 10.71 per cent over the same period of a year ago.

Many agencies are seeking methods to correct the situation, but there is no cure-all. Carelessness is the cause of accidents, a disregard of the golden rule. Whether an increased cost for insurance will tend to curb carelessness is doubtful. Motorists will protest long and loud about the added cost of automobile operation but if they care nothing for human life they probably will not associate increased insurance with their own attitude on the highway.

What is needed is a penalty that is not covered by insurance. Violation of motor vehicle laws should cease to be a social error, there should be something that calls for investigation and revocation of the right to drive for those who demonstrate they do not care for the rights of others.

Plowing With Propellers Merely a Unique Stunt

Riverside Enterprise

In breaking ground for a new grand stand for the national air races at the Cleveland airport, an airplane was used to pull the plow. Many spectators wouldn't believe the thing could be done until they saw it. As an engineering feat it was simple enough. A 100-horsepower motor certainly ought to be able to do at least as much pulling as a two-horse-power team.

It doubtless made a fine picture. Still, we can hardly envision farmers starting right in and hitching airplane motors to their riding plows. Light, dry soil would be blown over into the next township as fast as it was plowed. There would never be any robins following the furrow. And maybe there are other reasons.

HANDING OUT A LITTLE CREDIT

The Indian was lacking in medical skill;
When the mumps or the measles assailed him,
Or from any annoying complaint he fell ill
He never suspected what ailed him.
He called in a thick-witted medicine man
If relief from discomfort he needed,
Unaware all the time what a hazard he ran
With a healer who knew less than he did.
And yet many an Indian continued his hold
On his turbulent life till a hundred years old.

No Indian was versed in the laws of hygiene;
He ate any food he desired,
And never attempted to keep himself clean—
The thought of a bath made him tired.
The tepid he slept in was always air-tight.
But, all fear that he'd suffocate scorning,
He crawled through its doorway of buckskin at night
And slept like a log until morning.
In this manner of life is no reason or rhyme,
But he lived, as I've said, for a very long time.

The Indians led bitter and strenuous lives,
Delighted to scalp and ravage,
I am told that they frequently ate with their knives,
Which proves they were hopelessly savage.
Of ethics and morals they knew not a whit
Yet for ages they lived as a nation
And had quite as much fun, we are forced to admit,
As we flowers of civilization.
They lacked education and culture and art,
But it seems just the same that they must have been smart.

"Things Which Ain't So"

By WILLIAM TRUFANT FOSTER and WADDILL CATCHINGS

It ain't what a man don't know that makes him a fool; it's the awful sight of things he knows that ain't so—
Josh Billings said something of that sort, and Josh Billings knew what he was talking about.

You may feel safe from the perils of bolshevism and every other fool program, because YOU know that they are unjust, unsound, and unworkable. But a program, in order to be adopted, does not have to be just, or sound, or workable. It merely has to SEEM so to a majority of voters.

And a majority of voters may not dread a change, because they already know many things "that ain't so" about capitalism and the competitive system.

As well as many things that are so, and plainly ought not to be so.

To be elected Mayor of Chicago, the patriotic Bill Thompson did not have to advocate anything just, or sound, or workable. All he had to do was to promise the endangered citizens of Chicago protection from the attacks of King George of England.

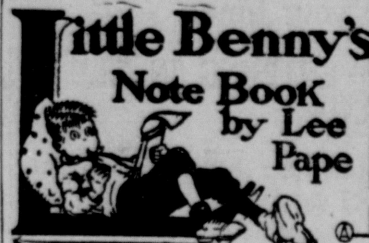

Many a radical plan for the control of industry is attractive mainly because it IS a plan; and almost any plan, in our planless industrial world, seems to some voters better than no plan at all.

"In the day of prosperity," said the Son of David, "rejoice; but in the day of adversity, consider."

This is timely advice from the Book of Ecclesiastes. We should now consider whether we shall change our industrial system by intelligent planning, or have it change for us in the chaos of planless revolution.

Some persons, it is true, know that the voters of this country will never revolt against conditions which, every now and then, throw five million men out of work. This is one of the things they know which ain't so.

Thoughts On Modern Life

By GLENN FRANK

UNITING BUSINESS AND POLITICS

Sooner or later in the life of every people a time comes when the future of its social order hinges upon the mood and major decisions of some group or groups whose hands happen, at the moment, to be upon the lever of power.

At every historic turn in the road some significant leadership has been an appointment with destiny, by which I mean that the destiny of an era has been dictated by the decisions that key leadership has made at the time.

The other day, in these articles, I suggested that American business now has an appointment with destiny, that the decisions made now by the leadership of American business and industry will largely determine what the American future is to mean to our sons and daughters.

Today I want to complete that suggestion, for it was incomplete as I put it.

Today the business leadership and the political leadership of the United States have a joint appointment with destiny.

And this appointment must be jointly kept!

We cannot afford the dangerous luxury of a political leadership putting in one direction and an economic leadership pulling in another.

Unless the political order and the economic order of the nation's life are animated by a common purpose, the social order will be disheveled and insecure.

And in the midst of a disheveled and insecure social order the people can be readily seduced by the improvised and ill-considered appeals of an irresponsible leadership.

Happily, events are conspiring to make possible a new and unprecedented unity of purpose between the political and economic leaderships of American life.

Too often in the past the relation between American politics and American business has been that of policeman and pursued.

But the impact of the current depression is making it increasingly evident that socially sound politics and permanently successful business alike depend upon the stabilization of a widely distributed prosperity and the guaranty of security, leisure, and self-respect for the millions.

OUR CHILDREN

By ANGELO PATRI
THIRSTY CHILDREN

Children are always thirsty. Any child can take a drink any time of the day or the night. In warm weather they are more than commonly thirsty. They ought to have plenty of pure cold water to drink but that is not as easy as it ought to be when one lives in a community of any size. The water comes out of a faucet and it is not cool. Nor does it sparkle.

Children love the sparkling water. They love to drink out of a bottle. One of the things they must be taught is that they must not drink out of a bottle unless it has the right sort of label on it. They must not drink out of the open vessels that are set on street stands.

When they go out on trips they are never to drink any water out of springs by the way. Polluted water is as clear and tastes as good as pure water as often as not. There is no way by which children or teacher can tell that water is pure or otherwise. The safe way is the best. Carry your own drinking water along with you if you are to be out for any length of time and forbid any child to drink along the way save from his own canteen.

This is the time for fruit juice drinks. Fruit is plentiful. In no country in the world is there such an abundance of fruit nor such a high quality of it. Buy fruit for the children. Take the juice out of it, chill it, and make them the magic drinks they delight in. Lemonade never loses its charm. Orange juice is always a treat. But mixtures are what the children enjoy. They soon get tired of the straight juices but if you vary the service by adding a dash of pineapple, a couple of cherries, a drop of orange, and some fresh fruit, they will come back for more. Fruit served this way is just what children need in hot weather. Milk must be well chilled if the children are to enjoy it. This does not mean that it is to be cold. Too much ice is not good. Just right is better. Chill the milk for breakfast. For lunch add a drop of flavoring and it will go down easier. If you serve cocoa chill it. No warm drink finds favor in a child's mouth on a summer day.

The best drink of all, the one they will come back to after trying out the list, is cold spring water. If you can supply this your worries are at an end. But suppose you have no spring in your yard. You have good water. Wash a couple of bottles and fill them with good water. Put them on the ice and when chilled let the children drink from them. If you have a supply of good cold water there will be fewer demands for pop and ice cream sodas. Ice cream sodas are not every day fare. They are for treats. It is not wise to let a child get the soda habit so that he begs for a soda every night and mid die day and morning. One now and then is all right enough and a child should be indulged to that extent. But not as a habit.

When you are planning cool drinks for the season please remember the dogs and the horses and see that they have fresh water as they need it. Keep the dog's dish in a cool place and renew the water three times a day, after every meal time in the house. One of the children can perform this service. For the horses you subscribe to the fund. The street fountain will be kept filled for them if you remember to send in your contribution.

TRAINING BASES

On July 6, 1917, it was announced that training bases for the American troops in France had been established and were ready for occupancy. They included aviation, artillery, infantry, and medical bases.

The section of the battlefield eventually to be occupied by the Americans was decided upon by the military authorities and approved by General Pershing, after he had inspected the ground.

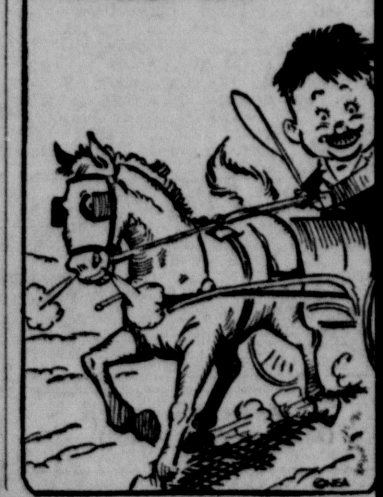

The location of this section was kept a military secret and no actual time was fixed for American participation on the fighting front. The battalion of United States soldiers that took part in the Independence day celebration in Paris began training at its permanent camp, over which General Sibert was placed in command.

In the meantime the training of officers was rushed, on the assumption that organization of the new armies would be retarded without qualified leaders.
